Senate Probe Of Red Trade Of Allies Posed

How Effective Ban Is Subject Of Investigation

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Chairman Bridges (R-N.H.) said today the Senate Appropriations Committee will make a "searching inquiry" into the extent to which free world allies have agreed to relax bans on trade with Red China.

Bridges' plan for an investigation of this issue came after Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) told the Senate yesterday it would be "criminal folly" not to cut off U. S. financial aid to nations which ship "the sinews of military and economic strength" to the Communists.

McCarthy had barely finished his floor address before Foreign Aid Administrator Harold E. Stassen shot back with a statement that what the senator said was "fantastic, unbelievable and untrue."

Stassen, who has tangled with McCarthy before, said "We are steadily building for peace under President Eisenhower's leadership." And in an obvious reference to McCarthy's televised tangle with Army officials, Stassen declared, "Sen. McCarthy is frantically reaching for diversionary headlines after the sorry spectacle of his record in recent hearings."

McCarthy, in what he said was a "painful and unpleasant" discussion of Republican "shortcomings," called for the listing by Stassen of "every type of material which we have agreed that our allies can ship to our enemies."

Bridges said in an interview today that the appropriations group, which passes on foreign aid funds, "already has taken cognizance of Stassen's statements indicating a weakening of the ban on trade with the Reds."

"We will want to go into this matter very thoroughly and see that the aid we are giving, or its equivalent, is not directly or indirectly filtering into Communist hands," he said.

CHARGES 'STACKED DECK' — Sen. Joseph McCarthy, posing for pictures before going on the Senate floor for a speech on another matter, declared he does not "want to go ahead with a stacked deck" in discussing his reaction to Army Secretary Robert Stevens' statement that Army charges against McCarthy and aides were made on the army's own motion, not on direction of "higher ups," and on the President's refusal to withdraw a secrecy order on Jan. 21 meeting. ## Right-To-Work Hearings Set For May 26

BATON ROUGE, May 20.—UP—The controversial right-to-work bill today was assigned to the industrial relations committee of the Louisiana Senate.

The bill was introduced yesterday. Sen. Guy Sockrider of Lake Charles, chairman of the committee said the group "will commence holding its hearings on Senate bills No. 127 and 128, commonly known as the 'right-to-work' bills on Wednesday, May 26, at 11 a.m. in the Senate chamber."

"The committee wishes to go on record," Sockrider said, "as being interested in holding impartial, fact-finding hearings. It shall be our policy to give both the proponents and opponents an equal opportunity to express their opinions on this measure."

"Our plans are to conduct public hearings beginning with Wednesday, May 26," he said, "and to continue said hearings each day, exclusive of Sunday, for a period not to exceed seven days."

Sockrider added in his prepared statement that "we especially invite the press, industrialists and their employees, farmers and their workers, contractors, merchants, union officials and their rank and file members, attorneys and any other interested individual or group" to attend the sessions. "Officials or citizens of other states with or without a 'right-to-work' law are welcome as it is my opinion that much could be learned from them."

"At the conclusion of these extensive hearings," he said, "our committee will be better informed as to the merits or demerits of these two bills and the thinking of the people of Louisiana."

Speculate On Course Solon Will Now Take

Cannot Force McCarthy To Take Stand

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) said today he knows no way senators investigating Sen. McCarthy's row with Army officials could force the Wisconsin Republican to take the stand if he should decide to walk out.

McCarthy has left in doubt the course he may follow when hearings resume Monday.

Potter and several other members of the Senate investigations subcommittee expressed belief a major obstacle to continuance of the hearings had been removed by a statement from Secretary of the Army Stevens shouldering full responsibility for Army charges against the Wisconsin senator. This followed President Eisenhower's refusal to modify an executive order against some testimony.

McCarthy's complaint about continuing the televised hearings with a "stacked deck" prompted speculation in Congress that he might decline to testify personally and call for what he has characterized as a directed verdict in his favor.

McCarthy told newsmen he is "at a loss on just what to do." The subcommittee scheduled a closed-door meeting this afternoon. McCarthy said he will attend if he's invited. He normally heads the group, but has stepped off for the duration of this inquiry.

If he does attend the meeting, McCarthy said, he does not plan to ask then for a "directed verdict."

Potter said in an interview: "If the McCarthy side says it has disproved the Army's case and proved its own charges through cross-examination and can't go on, in the face of the President's order, I don't know how the committee could force them to."

Any such action by McCarthy would be in the face of Eisenhower's call yesterday for testimony from all the principals — "Let the chips fall where they may" — and demands of Democratic subcommittee members that all principals be heard in public sessions.

The White House gave added emphasis to the President's news conference remarks by permitting direct quotation of much that

Body Is Recovered At Horseshoe Lake

VIDALIA, May 20. (Special)—The body of a 32-year-old Brookhaven, Miss., pulpwood worker was recovered from Horseshoe lake about 18 miles from here Thursday morning, the Concordia Parish sheriff's department reported.

The man, John Hickman, Jr., drowned shortly before dark Wednesday when he was apparently pitched from his boat shortly after he had put his two companions on the bank.

Roy Barlow, Concordia Parish jailer, said the incident apparently occurred as follows:

Hickman and two companions, Emile Case and Lee Martin of Brookhaven, had been fishing in the lake when Martin decided to go back to Brookhaven, since he had driven to the lake in his own car.

Hickman took the other pair to the bank and then, for a reason not known here Thursday morning, left alone in the boat again. He passed out of sight of his two companions and that was the last he was seen, Martin, Barlow said, was back in Brookhaven before he learned of the tragedy.

Barlow said he assumed the boat had hit a snag, throwing Hickman out. He said the boat continued on and was spotted by other persons on the lake. They reported it and the search for Hickman's body began.

American Legion trucks from Natchez and Monroe were both on the scene. The body was recovered about 9 a.m. Thursday after the search was called off late Wednesday night until daylight.

Barlow said Hickman's body was to be taken back to Brookhaven.

Action Urged To Bypass High Court

Kennon Thinks Solons To Direct No Changes

BATON ROUGE, (AP) — Gov. Robert Kennon predicts the Legislature "will direct that segregation be continued" in Louisiana schools, and a House resolution up for approval today urges action to bypass the Supreme Court.

The resolution, introduced by Rep. E. W. Gravolet Jr. of Plaquemine Parish, calls the high court segregation ruling as an "outrageous" and "unlawful" abuse of power.

Gravolet introduced the resolution yesterday, but yielded to requests he withhold action on it until after the top level meeting at the governor's mansion.

Kennon conferred with state, educational and legislative leaders for two hours yesterday afternoon. He indicated after the meeting that his 11-member Commission on Higher Education might have to be "expanded and broadened in scope" to study methods of continuing segregation.

The commission is composed of three representatives from the Louisiana State University board of supervisors, three from the state Board of Education and five delegates at large.

Gov. Kennon said: "I think the Legislature will consider carefully what it can do to give the state and local school boards every legal authority to maintain a satisfactory school system, which will include segregation in fact as it has been over the years."

"I believe this Legislature will provide more schools and direct that segregation be continued in fact," he said.

And he thought the Legislature might want to raise the limit on school bonds issued by local school boards to carry out a parallel school system.

Finally he believed the Legislature might provide "state aid for local school construction" on "a long range basis." The state, while providing funds for education, does not finance school construction.

He did not specify what sections, but some lawmakers were cool to "taking an official slap at the Supreme Court."

"I expect the resolution to pass, almost unanimously," Gravolet declared.

"I don't see why any son of Louisiana shouldn't be in favor of it. It's time to stand up and be counted."

Gravolet was aided in writing the resolution by District Attorney, Leander Perez of St. Bernard and Plaquemine parishes. Perez is a long time state political leader and was a key figure in the 1948 States Rights movement.

Hanoi Near Panic As Enemy Turns To Key Defenses

HANOI, May 20.—UP—The vanguard of Communist Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap's victorious Red army approached the outer defenses of the Red River delta Thursday.

Hanoi, the key to French defenses in north Indo-China, was near panic.

Corsair fighters ranging west along colonial route 41 said the advance elements of the Communist hordes had crushed Dien Bien Phu have pushed three miles beyond Moc Chau. They now are only 75 miles from Hanoi itself.

These troops were described as the vanguard of four divisions moving eastward after their victory at Dien Bien Phu.

Rumors swept Hanoi that chief of staff Gen. Paul Ely had arrived to direct the French evacuation of Tonkin province in which Hanoi is located.

Communist leaflets circulated through the native quarters saying that Giap was about to launch a sweeping offensive against the rice rich delta.

Other propaganda leaflets claimed the Hanoi-Haiphong highway and railroad, which connect this inland capital with the sea, will be cut shortly and the city isolated.

The French population of this city was on edge. Panic was narrowly averted during the night in one night club when the proprietor announced he heard all civilians had to be evacuated from Hanoi within a month.

"Meanwhile," he said, "we are offering free champagne to everyone so the Viet (Communists) won't get it."

Actually no such announcement has been made, but the patrons half believed it.

Business has come to a near standstill. Contracts are being cancelled daily. Housewives have loaded up on canned goods. The men of the city have accumulated hand grenades and pistols.

Two Gunmen Not Guilty Of Murder

CHANDLER, Okla.—UP—Sheriff Glen Confer said today that two Tulsa, Okla., gunmen who were captured after shooting two policemen had been cleared of suspicion in a Mansfield, La., shooting last Sunday.

The gunmen, Billy James Beets and William J. Phillips, both 24, were captured here yesterday after their second gunfight with officers in less than two hours.

Sheriff Harmon Burgess of DeSoto parish, La., said the two men appeared at first to fit the descriptions but that there were several dissimilarities." Confer said the two had established that they were in Tulsa over the weekend, and couldn't have been at Mansfield, La., where Deputy J. W. Gamble was killed and Deputy Ralph Shelton injured.

Interchemical Firm Opening Monroe Branch

The establishment of a branch office of the Interchemical Corporation in the Monroe area was made public today in a joint announcement by the company and the Ouachita Parish Industrial Development Corporation. The joint announcement was issued by Robert C. Butz, executive director of the OPIDC, and Raymond E. Weltz, who will be manager of the local branch.

The office and service station is located at 3008 Lee Avenue and will serve printers and lithographers throughout this area.

District manager is A. W. Legge, of Dallas.

Weltz, who has been in the printing ink field for 22 years, is in charge of the Monroe branch and will have with him specialists who have thorough knowledge of the business. The station is completely equipped with modern facilities for mixing, milling, color matching and proofing. A special section is devoted to inks for aniline and Anilox type presses, widely used by package printers. Precision machines of the latest type assure ample ink production even during peak periods of activity.

The new IPI branch also has ample storage for both raw and finished materials. The layout equipment and space assignments closely follow the same pattern of other IPI branch and factory buildings.

Segregation Must Go On, House Says

By ED PRICE

News-Star—World

BATON ROUGE, May 20. (Special)—A resolution putting Louisiana on record as continuing segregation in its schools despite a recent Supreme Court decision was passed by the House of Representatives this morning on an 84 to 3 roll call vote.

The resolution was sent immediately to the Senate for concurrence. The Senate delayed adjourning to receive the segregation resolution and its passage seems assured.

The three house members voting against the resolution were Mrs. Bland Cox Bruns and Bernard T. Engert of New Orleans and Edward V. Pavy of St. Landry Parish.

Representative Gilbert Faulk of Monroe spoke on behalf of the resolution, terming it "noteworthy and signal."

Rev. D. W. Gravolet, Jr., Plaquemine parish, a sponsor of the resolution, said it had been drawn up by a committee of senators and representatives representing all political factions in the state.

Gravolet said "We have to take this vote to make sure the rights of the sovereign state of Louisiana or the power of this house is not curtailed by nine men in Washington or anyone else. Think of your children and grandchildren and see how important this is to this legislature."

He said the Supreme Court decision banning racial segregation in schools was an usurpation by the U. S. Supreme court of the powers of Congress and the Louisiana Legislature.

Representative Engert, opposing the resolution, called it "a hysterical resolution worked up by mass psychology." He said "The people of the Kremlin will shout with glee when we pass this. A vote for this resolution is voting on the side that helps communism."

'Poppy Day' Set By Mayor Coon On Saturday, May 29

The annual "Poppy Day" this year will be observed in the Twin Cities on Saturday, May 29. A proclamation has been issued at the city hall by Mayor John E. Coon.

All citizens are urged to wear a memorial poppy on Saturday, May 29. This, the proclamation states, is an individual tribute to the memory of America's war dead.

It recites that young men of the city of Monroe are again serving in defense of their country and are taking their places among honored citizens who have served in times past.

Also the roll of those who have given their lives is ever lengthening. Thus it urges that their memory must live for all time in the hearts of Monroe's citizenry.

The wearing of a poppy on this day is a silent tribute, the proclamation states, to show that a grateful public recognizes sacrifices made.

Reservations For Neville Alumni Banquet Urged

Shelby Cane, president of the Neville-Old City High School alumni association, again urged members to make reservations "as soon as possible" for the annual alumni banquet, slated to be held Tuesday at the Frances Hotel. The reminder was made Thursday morning by the organization's president.

Cane pointed out that the reservations are coming in "well above expectation and we are anticipating a large crowd." Plans have already been set for the entertainment, which will not include a "featured speaker but will be just what it said—good entertainment and fellowship."

Frank Brees, Jr., will act as master of ceremonies for the banquet. Starting time has been set at 7 p.m.

he had to say.

The President said he was "astonished" by talk that his injunction against certain testimony would be used as an excuse for calling off the hearings, and he added:

"Far from me trying to get any investigation off the track, I was merely trying . . . to keep it on the rails."

He again said he hopes the hearings will be completed quickly because they are diverting attention from more important matters.

Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams have accused McCarthy and two aides, Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr, of bringing improper pressure on the Army for favored treatment for a former associate, Pvt. G. David Schine.

McCarthy responded with charges that Stevens and Adams used Schine as a "hostage" in an attempt to shut off an investigation of alleged Communists in the Army.

McCarthy told a news conference last night he had tried, but failed, to get a date with Eisenhower "about a week before this thing exploded" in mid-March.

He said he had wanted to tell Eisenhower then — sometime soon after Feb. 20 — that "I suspected he was not getting all the facts" about the row then simmering between McCarthy, Stevens and other top Army people.

At his request, McCarthy said, his friend Victor Johnson telephoned the White House to arrange an appointment. He said Johnson, director of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, talked to Wilton B. (Jerry) Persons, legislative liaison aide at the White House.

Persons agreed to ring them back if he lined up the appointment, McCarthy said, but "he hasn't called back yet."

Asked whether he regarded this as a presidential "snub," McCarthy replied, "No, he's a busy man."

Stevens' statement accepting full responsibility for the charges against McCarthy was in response to the senator's suggestion they might have been "instigated" at a Jan. 21 conference of Atty. Gen. Brownell and top presidential advisers.

swamped with demands for steamer and airplane tickets. Big business firms are seeking to transfer their stocks to Saigon, far to the south.

There was no solid indication when Glap would launch his attack on the delta and on Hanoi. But the roving French fighters and bombers reported machine-gunning truck columns of troops and mobile 105 mm howitzer batteries which already have passed Moe Chau at the gateway to the delta.

Other French pilots reported leaving lines of trucks in flames farther west in the biggest air attacks since Dien Bien Phu fell. Several thousand Red troops besieged three vital defense posts in the southern delta itself. And 29 rebel partisans were captured by French union forces only six miles from Hanoi's outskirts.

In the southernmost angle of the delta Communist troops, including elements of the regular 320th Division, applied the "strangulation methods" used at Dien Bien Phu to three outposts in the Phuly-Nam, Dinh-Thai, Binh triangle.

Rebel troops have been besieging these posts for over a week. They launched a big frontal assault on Phuly Ly, anchor town of the southern delta. French fighter-bombers have so far been able to hold them off.

Now, however the Communists have brought in some of the rapid-firing 37 anti-aircraft guns the Chinese Reds taught them to use so effectively at Dien Bien Phu. They have begun digging Dien Bien Phu-type tunnels and trenches around the three outposts.

Senate Probe

hands," he said.

Stassen's statement said a full accounting of the administration's "successful administration of trade controls" was given in a report to Congress made public Sunday.

In that report Stassen portrayed free world trade with the Communist bloc as a whole as declining in 1953. While commerce with Red China crept up at least temporarily, he said, "the glittering prospect of a vast and lucrative trade" which traders envisioned with the Chinese mainland "was not materializing."

McCarthy told reporters his Senate speech was no "one-shot affair" — that he intends to pursue the subject further.

He said Congress should withhold foreign aid funds until the administration enforces what he said would be a practical "blockade" on the coast of China by telling American allies "they will not get one cent of American money so long as they either ship goods to Red China or allow their ships to be used to carry cargoes to Red China." The United States has barred its traders from shipping to the Chinese Communists.

In response to a question by Sen. Chavez (D-NM), McCarthy said it was "correct" that he was criticizing policies of the GOP administration. He said Eisenhower had "taken many steps in the right direction" but hadn't gone far enough.

"It may be painful and unpleasant to discuss the shortcomings of one's own party," he said, "but as long as I am in the Senate, I'm never going to refrain from exposing what is wrong merely because it might be in my party."

He said that while he disagreed with some policies, he had supported Eisenhower in 1952 and would do so "if he were running now, because I think his batting average is high."

"I am painfully aware—very painfully aware—of the facts that today's suggestions for a general plan of action by the United States in the Far East will be hailed by some as 'an attack upon the Eisenhower administration,'" McCarthy said.

"However, with the world going up in flames and our civilization facing the imminent threat of further Communist enslavement, every senator and every congressman has a duty to add whatever contribution he may have—hoping that if all suggested courses of action are freely discussed and carefully considered we may arrive at the proper solution."

Sam Cowling To Aid Palsy Drive

Sam Cowling, one of the staff members of the "Breakfast Club," heard over a national radio hook-up each morning, will be one of the featured participants of the giant telethon over a local television station Saturday. The all-night program will begin at 10 p.m. and continue on through Sunday.

The telethon is being held in behalf of the United Cerebral Palsy fund drive in Ouachita parish and will bring many nationally-known personalities to Monroe. Also on the program will be a number of local acts and talents by persons aiding this worthy cause.

Acting as master of ceremonies for the program will be a well-known star of the entertainment field, who is also a rising star in the popular record field.

The program will be produced by Harry Arthur and "Pete" McCausland.

Slated to arrive either late Friday or "sometime Saturday" are such personalities as Mary Mayo, of Chicago, rising singing star, "Buzz" Corry, television star, Forrest Tucker, actor of the stage and screen, and others.

Thirty telephones and one Western Union machine will be located at the CP headquarters to receive calls from persons wishing to make donations to the cerebral palsy drive. The machines will be handled by operators of the local telephone union, who are donating their time to aid in the campaign.

Father Of Eight Killed In Crash

NEW ORLEANS — A small produce truck piled into the rear of a semitrailer truck on the Air Line Highway near Norco today killing a 38-year-old father of eight.

State police identified the victim as Clement Madere Jr. of LaPlace, driver of the produce truck.

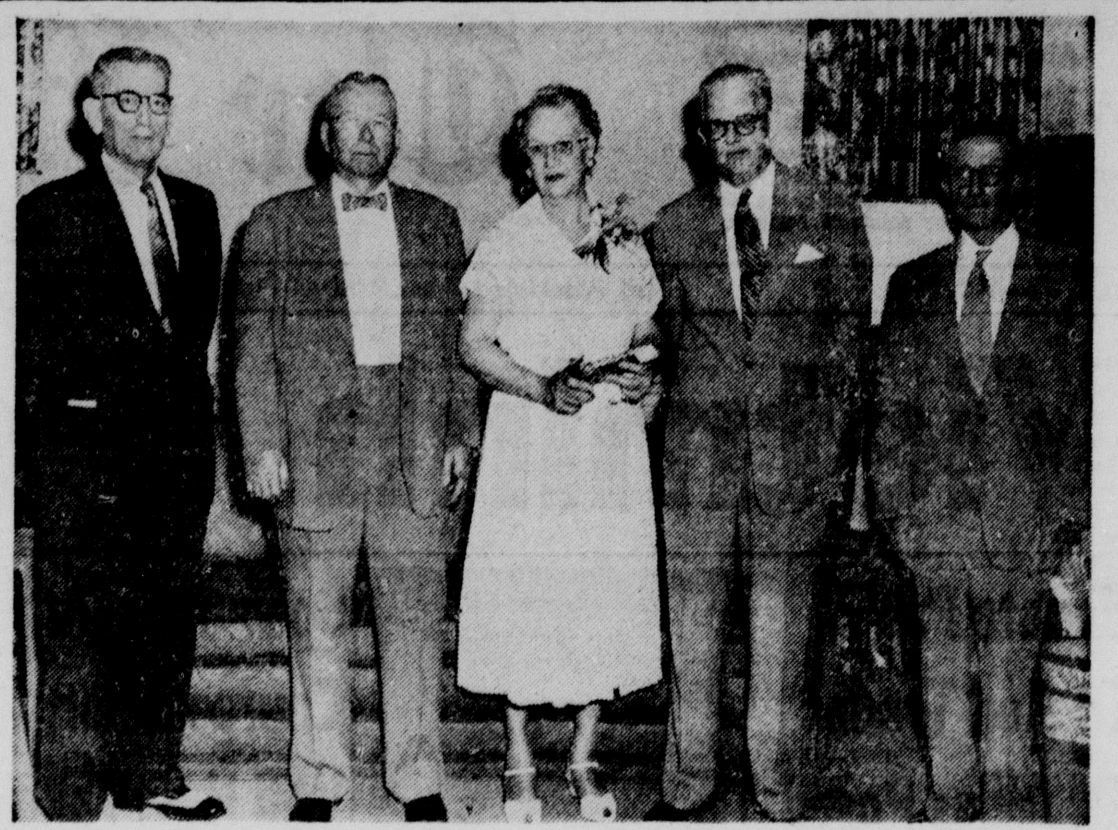

The impact hurled Madere 60 feet onto the highway. Gasoline spread over the highway and traffic was halted for about 30 minutes while water was sprayed over the area.

Within a short time after his escape, police said, Pjerrou begged two motorists with a pipe. They said he commandeered a laundry truck after hitting the driver and that he later transferred to a passenger car after slugging its owner into unconsciousness.

Friends Protest U. S. Action On Atom Scientist

CHICAGO — The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists lashed out today at the government's suspension of the security clearance of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer as "a breach of faith."

The Bulletin, sponsored by a number of scientists who pioneered development of the atomic bomb, took the unprecedented step of adding 16 pages to its May edition for a thorough discussion of the Oppenheimer case.

Nearly two score of Oppenheimer's colleagues or friends expressed faith in his integrity and loyalty.

Oppenheimer is chairman of the Bulletin's Board of Sponsors. Oppenheimer, who guided the work of scientists contributing to the development of the A-bomb, was denied further access to classified material on the ground he associated with Communists in the early days of World War II and later opposed development of the hydrogen bomb.

No Sure Bet When Probe To Resume

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Even Thurgood Marshall would get eyestrain trying to watch the rabbit to see what hat it was in in the Senate investigation of the Army-McCarthy fight.

The hearings, which started April 22, seemed all but dead last Monday after they were shut down for a week. They're supposed to start up again next Monday. That's no sure bet.

The inquiry began as an attempt to find out who was lying—Secretary of the Army Stevens and his aides or Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and his aides—in their bushel basket of charges and countercharges.

But now McCarthy says that from his viewpoint "the all-important thing is the motive—who started this, who is responsible for the Army charges."

After some confusion on who did start it, Stevens yesterday said he was responsible. He'll probably have to repeat that under oath. If and when he does, McCarthy may say he's still not convinced. If he insists, finding the motive takes precedence over finding the truth or falsity of the charges, he may use it as a reason for walking out without testifying.

No one yet has explained how the Senate subcommittee making the investigation could force McCarthy to testify or even attend the inquiry if he didn't want to. He couldn't be arrested and brought in.

McCarthy is in Washington on Senate business. And under the Constitution no senator can be arrested while serving as a senator except for treason, a felony or a breach of the peace. However, he has never said he wouldn't testify, and he has taken the stand once briefly already.

Yet after all this time only two of the main witnesses—Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams—have been called on for full testimony and neither of them has finished yet.

Four main witnesses remain to be called: McCarthy; his subcommittee's chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn; his chief of staff, Francis P. Carr; and H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense.

Before they ever finish, if the hearing lasts that long, squads of other witnesses undreamed of now may be pulled into the case.

Nevertheless, Sen. Mundt (R-ED), acting subcommittee chairman who said the hearings will begin again Monday, predicted they'd wind up in about 10 days after that.

That may turn out to be as dreamy as the predictions made before the hearings started the first time: that they'd be over in 10 days or two weeks.

This investigation has taken strange twists and turns, including the many hours lost by the investigating senators in their search for a way to save time. The strangest came when President Eisenhower got into the picture.

He refused—on the constitutional grounds that the Senate had no right to nose into private conversations among his advisers—to let the Senate subcommittee question some of those advisers.

Adams said he had talked with them about alleged improper pressures from McCarthy's office, and was advised to list them in writing. The chronology later grew into the Army charges now before the senators.

McCarthy cried, in effect: "Who really pulled the strings? Did Stevens and Adams make the charges against me and my staff on their own or were they pushed into it? Whom am I fighting here?"

The other senators said that was a good question. They wanted to find out, too, and suspended the hearings last Monday to see if Eisenhower could be persuaded to let them question his advisers.

He still said no yesterday and Stevens jumped in to say the Army alone was responsible for the charges. It was after hearing this that McCarthy, perhaps not convinced, said the motive behind the charges was the main point.

Sees Hint Of Prohibition In Solon's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A liquor industry spokesman today called a bill to impose a nationwide federal ban on interstate liquor advertising "a step to the return of national prohibition."

As opponents of the proposal took their turn before the House Commerce Committee, R. E. Joyce, vice president of the Distilled Spirits Institute, appearing as an industry spokesman, declared in prepared testimony:

"This bill should be recognized for what it really is—a clever attempt to erect a sizable obstacle in the path of orderly sale of alcoholic beverages as a step to the return of national prohibition by a minority who, if they had their way, would completely prohibit the manufacture and sale of the product."

The current hearing represents the fifth time since 1947 that Congress has considered measures to bar interstate dissemination of alcoholic beverage advertising in newspapers and magazines, and over radio and television.

Spokesmen for temperance and church groups gave the proposal their solid backing yesterday.

Joining Joyce in attacks on the bill were Clinton M. Hester, speaking for the U. S. Brewers Foundation; Arthur P. Bondurant, a vice president of the Glenmore Distilleries Co. of Louisville, appearing for the Distilled Spirits Institute and the Kentucky Distillers Assn.; and Patrick Cavanaugh of Philadelphia, vice president of the National Licensed Beverage Assn., trade organization of retail dispensers.

Hester's prepared testimony accused "professional drys" of "undermining confidence in government authority" and of trying to pressure Congress into passing "unconstitutional and discriminatory" prohibition legislation.

Bondurant's statement said distilled spirits advertising is ethical and does not influence liquor consumption, which he said is declining on a per-person basis.

Cavanaugh said in prepared remarks that the proposal not only discriminates against an industry "specifically authorized to exist by vote of our entire people," but that it also would discriminate against establishments selling both food and alcoholic beverages in favor of places serving only food.

Monroney Labels M'Carthy 'Third Rate Detective'

NEWARK, N. J., May 20 (AP)—Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) Wednesday night compared Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy with a "third-rate assistant detective on a local vice squad."

He said McCarthy has "declared war on the President and the Republican leadership" in an effort to seize control of the GOP "and make it over in his own image."

"No one asserts himself within (the Republican) party to block this march to power," Monroney said.

Monroney, Gov. Robert B. Meyner and Rep. Charles R. Howell, Democratic nominee for the seat held by retiring Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson (R-N. J.), all spoke at a $100-a-plate state Democratic fund-raising dinner here.

The Oklahoma senator said the Republicans had created "the granddaddy of all messes in Washington."

"Because of the vacuum of leadership within the Republican party from top to bottom," he said, "we see the struggle for power being exercised by Senator McCarthy."

"Most of the troubles of the Eisenhower administration with their problem child, McCarthy, stem from the fact that they thought they could use him and his smear tactics to label the party of Jefferson and Jackson as the party of treason," he said.

"Now their chickens are coming home to roost. With the tactics and ability of the third-rate assistant detective on a local vice squad, Senator McCarthy has declared war on the President and the Republican leadership."

Both Meyner and Monroney predicted Democratic congressional victories in November, but warned of over-confidence.

Stirs Hopes For New Industry In Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, May 20 (AP)—A Texan stirred Louisiana hopes of a new industry when he sought the state's first uranium lease.

Mrs. Ellen Bryan Moore, registrar of the State Land Office, told today of the application and said: "It is the first time in history that such a lease has been asked in Louisiana, as far as I know."

But the Texan, part owner of a uranium hunting firm said he wanted the lease on lands in north Louisiana and asked the procedure for filing his application.

Mrs. Moore did not identify the applicant nor the area involved. Ory Poret, head of oil and gas leasing in the land office, said uranium deposits have been found in nearby north Texas and Oklahoma.

"This state is a natural drainage basin for those places," he said.

Two Little Words Spell Out Fortune For Father, Son

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—Omission of two words from a land title deed 46 years ago spelled out a fortune today for Anton Turta and his son Nick, who farm in the heart of Alberta's Leduc oil field about 20 miles south of here.

The two hold title to 160 acres of land on which mineral rights have been valued at more than one million dollars.

After a two-year legal fight, the Supreme Court of Canada yesterday dismissed claims by the Canadian Pacific Railway (CPR) and Imperial Oil Ltd. for the oil rights on the land.

Also benefiting from the ruling were the Montreal Trust Co., which holds a lease on Anton Turta's portion of the land, and William Sereda, who holds a lease on the other half.

Turta acquired part of the land in 1911 and the remainder in 1918 from Mike Podgorny, who had purchased the tract in 1908 from the railway. A clerk in the land title office here erred in drawing up Podgorny's title, reserving to the railroad the rights to "all coal" subsequently found but omitting the words "and petroleum."

The error went unnoticed until Alberta's oil boom. In 1943 the deed was changed to read: "Reserving unto the CPR all coal and petroleum."

The CPR leased the land to Imperial Oil in March 1951. Turta went to court.

In May 1952, the Alberta Supreme Court ruled in the farmer's favor.

Justice W. G. Egbert held the land titles office did not have the authority to change the deed.

The Appellate Division of the Alberta Supreme Court upheld Justice Egbert's ruling and the Supreme Court of Canada agreed yesterday.

Orleans Roofing Workers Strike Enters 3rd Week

NEW ORLEANS, May 20 (AP)—A roofing workers strike entered its third week here today and building industry sources warned that unless the dispute is settled all major construction may be halted and 15,000 workers thrown out of work.

Ray E. Pufark, director of the Construction Industry Association, said all construction work had noticeably slackened or stopped because workers have to wait for roofers to catch up.

Pufark quoted sources in the building industry that all work may be stopped unless the strike is settled.

The strike came after negotiations broke down between the Sheet Metal and Roofing Contractors' Association and the United Slate, Tile and Composition Roofers, Damp and Waterproof Workers Association, Local 141, AFL.

Union President Julius Zuberbieber said his group is "ready to resume negotiations at any time. We're told the contractors that."

The union is seeking a two-year contract guaranteeing a 15-cents an hour increase each May 1.

The contractors have countered with an offer of five cents an hour boost retroactive to May 1 and another 7 1/2 cent raise next May 1.

H. Richmond Favrot, acting chairman of the contractors' negotiating committee, said the union demand was exorbitant in view of economic conditions.

Construction work now underway in New Orleans totals more than $31,000,000.

Nicaraguan Diplomats Leave Guatemala Post

GUATEMALA (AP)—Nicaragua's entire diplomatic mission to Guatemala left here suddenly for home yesterday. No explanation was given but some local quarters interpreted the departure as a break in diplomatic relations between the two Central American republics. The governments of Guatemala and Nicaragua have been at odds for months. Guatemalan President Anastasio Somoza was leading a plot by Nicaragua, El Salvador, Santo Domingo and Venezuela to invade Guatemala and overthrow Arbenz' leftist regime. Somoza called the charge a "lie" and all four of the Central American governments named denied it officially.

The Segregation Issue

The Supreme Court has ruled that segregation as it has been practiced in many sections of the nation for many years, is unlawful. On December 12th, the Monroe Morning World, having information to the effect that the issue had already been decided by the court, discussed the entire situation at some length. Numerous people in the Twin Cities have suggested that parts of the discussion be reprinted. Actually the situation has not changed and it will not change. The decision is one with far reaching effects and one which is of such importance as to almost defy description.

"In the first place, there are two questions involved, one equally as important as the other and one is being overlooked by many people who see the race issue as the main one.

"Consider them in the order of succession in which they have been presented. First and foremost, there is the issue of the Negro versus the whites going to the same schools. One can argue all night, the next day and partly into the next night on this subject without changing any minds if they are made up and there are many made up minds concerning the integration of the races and all of them are not found in the South. It is necessary to face the facts in the segregation issue and the facts are these whether you like or dislike them. Speaking of today and the near future, the people of the nation have to realize that segregation as it has been practiced is perhaps as dead as the war between the states out of which the issue is erroneously said to originate. Every move in recent years points that out and the records show that to be the truth.

"However, and here is what the situation involves; should segregation end overnight by force of numerous radical Negro and white organizations, or should it end gradually by normal processes as have been legally practiced in the South for many years. There are many Negroes who have gone up North, had a look at the "equality" and come back South, a place which they probably should have never left to begin with. In the South, the Negro will generally get a fair break while up North, he is actually hated by a majority of the people. If you do not believe this to be so, witness the race riots in that region.

"What the radical organizations have yet to understand is this: the American people refuse to be coerced. If whites desire Negroes in a particular residential section, they will not object to them moving there. However, they will resent them being deliberately moved there to force the issue of some organization based on radical lines. As far as the school issue is concerned, in the South, the schools of the Negroes are in some cases, even better than those of the whites while in the North, few schools, even peopled by both races are as good as the new schools built by the farsighted Southern states. Negroes who attempt to force integration of the races in schools are in some actual cases, lessening the chances of the Negro youngster's succeeding and nobody knows it better than the Negro leaders themselves.

"There has been too much politics being played by the NAACP, the "Civil Rights Congress" (a Communist front organization) and both the national political parties which are defeating the interests, of equality by playing the Negro votes as a "minority." It is assumed that the Negroes are Americans and should vote along those lines without partisan politics being involved.

"The other matter in this question involves the rights of the individual states themselves and here, the Negro has a stake as much as the white man. It is quite apparent that the NAACP lawyers in their quest for "equality" have forgotten that Negroes live in the states as well as the federal administration and within the national framework. It is clear that the rights of states will be forgotten if the supreme court rules adversely on the question. The Negro citizens must think of their localities as well as their "equality". If they live South, their interests should be Southern and the same holds true for them elsewhere.

"Under the constitution it is quite possible that the segregation was never intended. The Attorney General was asked to hand in a brief to the Court by direction of the Supreme Court. The Attorney General had no choice in the matter. Anyone who reads the brief will agree that it was made with great restraint. The most important point in the brief clearly states that the Supreme Court has the power to declare the segregation issue unconstitutional if it so chooses. It is believed a great many lawyers will agree to this. The correct time of application has been the question. It is also believed that the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments to the constitution pointed that the intent of congress was to end segregation. The times involved again will be the points in dispute.

"The end of segregation as is presently legally known is apparently here. Facts are facts and the people might as well face them whether they like them or not. There are two ways to go about something; the right way and the wrong way. In this case, there is no alternative but to choose the right way and that is to by all costs steer away from extremism on the part of both sides. The foolish idea of "selling school systems" is the wrong way on one side just as the sending of Negro children all the way across town just to get them into a white school represents the other.

"As in years past, the people of the South will face this problem as they have faced many others, in the calm and collected manner which is representative of Southern people regardless of the sneers and attacks from Northern extremist groups.

"This is a problem of the day and it remains to be seen as to how it will be handled, in the American way or otherwise."

Ships And Landlocked America

It would be a sad mistake indeed if Americans came to believe that our merchant marine and its future are important only to those of us who live on the seaboards.

Senator Potter of Michigan, who headed a special Senate subcommittee concerned with certain maritime problems, recently said: "... the most landlocked American must depend in some important measure on the goods that flow in the foreign trade of the United States, and the ships—instruments—that assure that flow of goods at all time ... every American is greatly concerned—or should be—about the American merchant marine and the importance of its place in our economy."

Witnesses before his committee substantiated that view to the hilt. To take but one example, a spokesman from Colorado, which is totally landlocked, pointed out that exports from that state are running around 40,000,000 a year and that about 200,000 people directly or indirectly get some of their livelihood from foreign trade.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis

Realistic Approach To Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON, May 19. — The soul-searching effort of the State Department to find some means of preventing Indo-China from falling to the Communists apparently has saved not a single soul from the Reds.

Therefore, the problem now is to postpone for as long as possible ultimate Red domination of the three states of Indo-China, to postpone the day when the Communists will be able to regroup and consolidate their position preparatory to further expansion into other nearby areas of southeast Asia.

Despite the brave words of French and American leaders that the Reds can be prevented from advancing farther into Indo-China, this is the true situation. Privately, most of these publicly optimistic leaders so admit.

Burma, Thailand, Britain's Malaya, Indonesia — where the Communists already have achieved an open foothold in government — all are on the Reds' long-range timetable. So, too, are other countries as they orbit expand.

Realization of this fact, and of the vital need of finding some way to prevent the Communists from carrying out their southeast Asian expansion timetable, is the reason for the preoccupation of much of the Eisenhower administration's topline with trying to forge an effective coalition of nations interested in southeast Asia's welfare.

The hope — dimming, but still Hand-in-hand with this problem is another — whence would come the troops and other forces necessary for military resistance to Asiatic Communist military aggression?

One of the major immediate purposes of any Far Eastern Defense Pact would have to be to build up defense forces on each signatory — with the United States, of course, footing most of the monetary bill. Then if one of the signatories should be attacked, each of the others would be pledged to aid it.

much alive — is that Thailand or Burma, or both, can be brought into such a pact as well as other Far Eastern governments such as the Philippines, South Korea and Formosa, along with the Anzus countries — Australia, New Zealand, the United States.

With such an alliance, there would be no stigma of colonialism or "white against yellow" attachable to any joint defense action they might undertake in support of any signatory to the pact.

A realistic viewpoint, however, compels the admission that even if such an agreement were reached there is no assurance that it can stop the Communists.

The Reds already have made substantial progress in Burma, Thailand and Malaya by the infiltration process at which they are so expert. Hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions, of Chinese have settled in Burma, and at this stage no one could say how many of them are Communists; the number undoubtedly would be large.

Hand-in-hand with this problem is another — whence would come the troops and other forces necessary for military resistance to Asiatic Communist military aggression?

One of the major immediate purposes of any Far Eastern Defense Pact would have to be to build up defense forces on each signatory — with the United States, of course, footing most of the monetary bill. Then if one of the signatories should be attacked, each of the others would be pledged to aid it.

Additionaly, leaders engaged in trying to work up the pact would like to establish in threatened areas on international defense force embracing troops from outside countries, as defense forces in western Europe embrace American, British and other units.

This is unlikely of achievement, however, for the simple reason that no anti-Communist country now has any military forces it can spare for what would amount to guard duty in that part of the world. Virtually every anti-Communist military unit already is committed for similar guard duty in its homeland or other areas which currently hold a higher priority on the list of necessities agreed upon by the western Allies.

The United States could not commit any forces to southeast Asia without weakening its domestic defenses or activating additional units and the latter process would take time. So, too, with every other country involved. Neither South Korea nor the Nationalist Chinese government on Formosa, for example, could commit substantial forces without weakening its own ability to defend its homeland against surprise aggression by the Chinese Communists.

The situation is such that Allied leaders publicly must, and do, proclaim their belief that southeast Asian defenses can be improved to withstand Communist aggression. But privately, they admit that this is only a hope, and not a very bright one at that.

Congressional Quarterly

1. Q — Have American Presidents often sent U. S. armed forces into other countries without a prior declaration of war by Congress?

A—This has happened about 150 times since 1800, when John Adams ordered Marines to what is now the Dominican Republic, according to the Library of Congress. In 1800, the Marines landed to spike a shore battery, accomplished their mission and withdrew. Most Presidents have used their power as Commander-in-Chief to send armed units abroad, and in most cases they acted before obtaining Congress' assent. President Eisenhower recently opposed a proposal limiting his authority to send American troops anywhere in the world except with Congressional approval. The next most recent conflict over this issue arose in 1951, when the Senate approved President Truman's dispatching of four divisions of ground troops to Europe, but said no more troops should be sent without Congress' agreement.

2. Q—The Constitution says that tax bills must originate in the House of Representatives. Does this mean the Senate can't revise House-passed revenue measures and can only accept or reject them?

A—No. The Constitution says that "All Bills for raising Revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives" but it immediately adds "the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments as on other Bills." If the Senate and House do not agree on a measure usually it is turned over to a conference committee composed of an equal number of members from each chamber, for an attempt to resolve the differences.

3. Q—How many investigations have been conducted under the guidance of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R Wis.)?

A—Nineteen full-fledged investigations, most of them beginning in 1953, according to a Congressional Quarterly tabulation. Reporting on its activities of that year, McCarthy's Investigations Subcommittee said it had conducted 445 preliminary inquiries and initiated 157 investigations — some of which never reached the hearings stage.

4. Q—Have many refugees been admitted into the United States since enactment of an emergency measure for refugee relief in 1953?

A—Only six, as of the middle of April, according to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D Minn.). The program, which terminates Dec. 31, 1956, would permit the entry of 209,000 refugees and allow permanent residence for 5,000 aliens already in the U. S. The State Department has said it was slow in starting for a variety of reasons, including the difficulty of finding American sponsors willing to assume responsibility for housing, employment and care of those admitted.

5. Q—When did Congress first take a floor vote on U. S. participation in the St. Lawrence Seaway project?

A—Twenty years ago, when, in 1934, a treaty authorizing U. S. Canadian construction of the Seaway failed to receive the necessary two-thirds Senate approval. The Senate turned down other Seaway bills in 1944, 1948 and 1952. During all the years the House never was called upon for a roll-call vote on the issue. When the House took it up May 5 that marked the first time it ever had reached the floor for debate and action.

6. Q—What are the main differences between "social security" and "public assistance"?

A—The Social Security Act en-

Truman Says President Should Be A Leader

NEW YORK, May 19. — I don't see why we continue to pay attention to Harry Truman's statements, made as political publicity for the party which not merely permitted but actually caused the infestation of our government by traitors. To be sure, when he comes up with a flagrant affront to the letter and spirit of our constitution as he did in his slouchwise insult to Eisenhower on the subject of presidential "leadership," he creates a useful occasion to examine the heresy and demolish it. But the publicity pictures of his daughter, a much more pleasant personality but unimportant in her own right, are sheer cheese — cake and his nasty repetition of the epithet "snollygoster" has no valid excuse. The man is coarse, he speaks with a dirty tongue, he has ghastly acts to atone for which cost us the victory in two wars and may cost us our existence as a nation and I see no excuse for friendly treatment.

Some individuals who had reason to despise him with unrelenting ardor have shaken his hand and banded repartee in Washington, but I think they show little self-respect or respect for the American people. Dick Nixon turned his back on Truman on the inaugural scaffold, but I was told that he later relented and some months afterward I read that he had received Truman in his office. I would have ordered the Secret Service to throw the bum out and I bespeak a similar mind toward him by all who remember his indecent conduct at the inaugural parade of '49 when Mrs. Strom Thurmond bowed and Truman refused to lift his hat and even restrained Alben Barkley from tipping his. Mr. Thurmond had been the States' Rights candidate.

You don't have truck with that kind, and the fact that Truman held the presidential office for almost eight years in which, by his act, we lost victories in Europe and Korea is no excuse to pay him obeisance. My respect for Barney Baruch rekindled when I read that Truman went to him at George Marshall's home in Virginia when Truman was up against it in the Eisenhower campaign and came away with dust on his knees. It seemed to me that this was a fix because Baruch, at his old age, flew down from New York with Arthur Godfrey, who isn't exactly a space cadet, and there they were, crumpling crumplets and fanning tea, when who dropped in but the fellow who wrote Baruch that insulting letter in '48. He was there to beg for the vote which Baruch might swing.

That showed the real quality of his character, I would have been too proud to beg, except to beg pardon if I thought I had done wrong.

Odd Schoolrooms

NEW YORK—One of New York's oldest schoolrooms, to use the term loosely, is that supervised by a doctor's wife, Frances Kleinfeld, who teaches English to adult patients of foreign extraction at the Hospital for Joint Diseases. Almost everything presents a problem except the matter of discipline, normally a major hurdle at schools but no poser in this one. Mrs. Kleinfeld must sandwich her instruction between the appointments of the medical men, for such items as X-rays, medication, temperature taking and other hospital routine take priority. She is constantly confronted with students who seldom have much in common, varying tremendously in age, educational background and, of course, in nationality. It is one of those seldom-lauded undertakings that make many of us feel a little useless by comparison.

Oddly enough, a man who should know claims that the best vocal recordings ever made were put on discs during a five-year period between 1902 and 1907. The claimant, George Seaman, also says the best piano solos were put on record during the period from 1928 to 1935. Mr. Seaman is engaged, under the title of "The Record Hunter," in locating hard-to-get classical discs.

compasses both these programs. What is commonly identified as "social security" is the Old Age and Survivor's Insurance system. Payroll taxes collected equally from employer and employee are credited to the OASI Trust Fund to support the system. Disbursements are made from the fund according to a formula based on a worker's earnings prior to his retirement or death. "Public assistance," based on an individual's need rather than personal contributions, is made up of programs for the aged, the blind, the disabled and dependent children. Payments to the needy come from combined federal, state and local grants.

7. Q—Did the United States export more goods than it imported in 1953?

A—Yes. This country exported $12.2 billion worth of goods excluding military items last year, while it imported $10.9 billion. The export-import trade balance was thus roughly one and one-third billion dollars.

8. Q—Is the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare in the line of succession to the presidency?

A—No. The Presidential Succession Act of 1947 provides that other cabinet member would succeed the vice president, speaker of the house and president pro tempore of the Senate in the event of a vacancy in the presidency. But HEW was not established as a cabinet-level department until 1953.

But I certainly would not have put the president in the position of a wheedling supplicant inviting the staff that Truman deserved and that Baruch called Truman a "true uncouth, ignorant man" a few days before the '48 election and I will bet he has wished many a time since that he had had the gumption to say "Yes, I said it and it still goes" instead of trying to weasel out of it next day.

As to presidential leadership, I saw and heard this abusive little man insult the Congress of the United States in '48 when he called a special session for no other purpose than to humiliate the institution from which we get our laws. Not enough of our people or our journalism really understood that scene. Stuck with a nomination which he had rejected, Truman called into special session the 80th Congress, which the Republicans controlled, and when they were in their seats, swaggered down the aisle like an alley fighter passing the bunch at a river front saloon. He was a shocking figure, the president of the United States, sneering at the legislative branch and the speech was a disgraceful thing. He used the power and dignity of his office only to ridicule Congress before the people. Being better Americans, they sat and took it. This was actually the opening speech of the '48 campaign and the people paid for a coup which was the proper expense of the Democratic party.

I don't forget such things. I wouldn't shake his hand and too many do who shouldn't.

Truman's proposition that the president should be a "leader" is a page out of the books of Hitler, Mussolini and Roosevelt. But he never "led" me although how can I deny that he dragged me down the slide to the peril and predicament that we all share now? Nor is he my "leader" now. He doesn't understand our constitution and he isn't going the way I want to go. It was to the good, however, that Truman put it that way. He may not get us to thinking back to the original and still legitimate meaning of the constitution and, of course, of the presidency. We lost our republic when we abandoned the original method of having states, through their legislatures, choose electors to pick the president and drifted into the present Democratic, emotional system whereby a rowdy can win popular votes from thoughtless people by a "give 'em hell" campaign. Not only that, but we turned the whole business over to two private organizations called political parties which have no legitimate right so to function. To the extent that he turned our thoughts to our fate, Truman's remarks were worth reporting, though we can't scramble back to the constitution now.

Here's How I See It

By Henry McLemore

Trip To Australia

The McLemores nearly broke the back of the Twentieth-Century Fox studio yesterday.

But we did it in the interest of our country.

As we are leaving for a trip to Australia in a few days we thought that as ambassadors of good-will, we should look our very best. So, through the kind offices of a dear and old friend, Harry Brand, it was arranged for the hair stylists and make-up artists of 20th Century to work on us.

I was assigned to Russ Allen, who has styled the hair of stars for sixteen years. Through his shears have passed such heads as those of Tyrone Power, Gregory Peck, Al Jolson, Robert Montgomery, and a thousand others.

Mary was placed in the hands of Helen Turpin and Ben Nye, tops in their business.

When I sat down in his chair Mr. Allen asked me what kind of a cut I desired. I told him anything that would make me look different than I did — that I was finally worn out with looking like myself.

I explained that for going on forty years I had never had but one kind of a haircut, what might roughly be called a Georgia Snip.

Let me study you," he said. He hacked off a few paces, looked awhile, and then circled the chair, his face grim. Then he went into consultation near the tonic counter with an assistant. They looked so stern that I took a note pad out of my pocket and wrote down the address of my nearest kin, and resolved that I would ask for the truth, no matter what it was.

Finally, Mr. Allen returned and spoke to me.

"We have decided," he said, "that what goes for Tyrone and Gregory won't go for you. You head of hair in a million. Even odder than George Jessel's. How brave are you, Mr. McLemore? To help your appearance you must run grave risks. Are you willing?"

I told Mr. Allen of my ancestors who fought at Missionary Ridge and said I only asked a little witch hazel on my face, a cold towel, a dusting of powder on my neck, and he could proceed. He took the extra precaution of giving me a towel to bite on, and went to work.

As I closed my eyes I could see the manicurist standing by, smelling salts in her hand and a look of admiration on her pretty face. I was afraid, yes, but when I thought of all the 20th Century stars who had taken whole islands from the Japs single-handed, who had fought to the death with pirates, and who had jumped off cliffs, I knew I couldn't let the studio down.

I remember crying out just once. That was when Mr. Allen, in one great stroke, removed my left sideburn. But a slosh of cologne hushed me, and I went under again.

When I came to I was sitting upright in the chair, looking in a mirror held by Mr. Allen.

"How do you like it?" he said. "It is what I call the Great Pyramids Trim. You see, I have been cutting the hair of the stars in 'The Egyptian,' a picture that is now being made, and there is something about your head that reminds me of a pyramid."

I took a good look and could see what he meant. There were trackless wastes up there, remindful of the Sahara. There was the firmness of Cheops.

"Would you like something on your hair?" Mr. Allen asked.

I took another look and answered: "Yes, a cap."

Mary came out looking like something out of a story book. Between them, Miss Turpin and Mr. Nye had taken a housewife and transformed her into a princess.

Monroe Better Than Average In Crime Control

NEW YORK, May 20. (Special)—On the basis of statistics gathered by the Federal Bureau of Investigation from 1,174 cities across the country, the crime situation in Monroe is under better control than it is in most communities.

The data shows that fewer offenses occurred in Monroe during 1953, in proportion to population, than were recorded in most cities in the nation.

Police in Monroe were called upon in the year to handle a total of 568 crimes. This represented a rate of 1,370 offenses per 100,000 people, which compares favorably with that of the other cities of the country with populations over 25,000. Their average was 1,832 crimes per 100,000.

The local rate was good, also, in comparison with the figures from all cities in the 25,000 to 50,000 size group, which averaged 1,581 per 100,000.

Under the FBI's uniform system, crime statistics are listed in six general categories. In Monroe larcenies led in number, with 339 reported. The other local figures were: burglaries, 126, auto thefts, 77, robberies, 7, assaults, 13, and murders, 6.

During the past year, reports the FBI, the volume of crime broke all records. There were well over two million major crimes recorded, a six per cent rise over the record number of 1952.

The survey shows that the overall crime rate is growing much more rapidly than the population is increasing. The ratio is four to one, states the FBI. In every type of major crime, except murder, a rise was noted.

Crimes against property were at an especially high level with over $400 million lost through robberies, auto thefts, larcenies and the like.

Membership in Kappa Delta Phi is based on outstanding leadership in campus and university affairs and for loyalty to Tulane.

Sartor is the son of D. R. Sartor of Alto.

Nebraska has about 4,000,000 head of cattle.

Scouting Honor Is Received By A. H. Matthews

Arthur Hugh Matthews of Monroe was given the Vigil honor membership in the Order of the Arrow, Boy Scout honor camper's organization, at a recent meeting of Area 5-D held at Camp Logoly near Magnolia, Ark. Twenty scouts from the Ouachita Valley Council attended the meeting.

This is the highest honor which the Order of the Arrow can bestow upon its members. Matthews is the sixth member of this 15-parish council's lodge to be so recognized.

Also made a vigil honor member was Kirk Henry, Memphis, Tenn., deputy regional scout executive. Henry serves this council.

A student at Louisiana Tech, Matthews is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Matthews, Milhaven Road. He has been active in scouting since first joining Troop 28, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Monroe and has served in several offices in the troop and as chief of the council's Comanche Lodge of the Order of the Arrow.

The Vigil Honor is, according to the charter definition, "a high mark of distinction and recognition reserved for those Scouts and Scouters members of the order, who by reason of exceptional service, personal effort, and unselfish interest, have made distinguished contributions of their position or office to one or more of the following: their lodge, the order of the Arrow, Scouting, the scout camp, the community." Only four per cent of the organization's members can be elevated to Vigil status.

In 1951 Matthews represented this region as one of 12 Boy Scouts in "Report to the Nation" ceremonies in Washington, D. C. The new Vigil member attended the Boy Scout National Jamboree in 1950 and 1953, serving as assistant scoutmaster at the latter one.

Leg of lamb will cost you about the same as a week ago, but pork chops will be higher. Butter prices will show practically no change from a week ago. Eggs, generally lower last week, will be up two to six cents a dozen in some areas and down a couple of cents in others.

Cabbage, green beans and spinach head the list of outstanding vegetable buys. Reasonable prices continue for the rest of the week, and then adjourn to permit the company to study union proposals and prepare its answer.

Objectives of the USW include a guaranteed annual wage and an unspecified pay increase for some 600,000 members in basic steel now averaging between $2.14 and $2.24 an hour.

Good Buys In Food Market This Wk-End

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There'll be a well-rounded list of good buys in the nation's food stores this weekend, with the emphasis once again on beef, veal and chickens.

Prominently mentioned as specials in beef were rib roast (down two to five cents a pound from last week), chuck roast, pot roast and round steak. Sirloin steak will sell for about the same as a week ago in most stores.

Some stores will pare four cents a pound from their prices for leg or rump of veal and veal shoulder roast. Veal chops will be a bit lower in a number of markets.

You'll find frying and roasting chickens at featured prices in a good many markets. And more stores will be offering turkeys as a weekend special. Most meat men consider turkeys rather a good buy these days.

Incidentally, it looks as if there will be plenty of turkeys for months to come. Poultrymen estimate that this year's crop will be 7 to 10 per cent above the 56 million birds raised last year.

Leg of lamb will cost you about the same as a week ago, but pork chops will be higher.

Butter prices will show practically no change from a week ago. Eggs, generally lower last week, will be up two to six cents a dozen in some areas and down a couple of cents in others.

Cabbage, green beans and spinach head the list of outstanding vegetable buys. Reasonable prices also will be found on cucumbers, big Boston and romaine lettuce, peppers, radishes, potatoes and onions.

Produce men continue to list strawberries as the best buy in fruit. Meanwhile, they herald the arrival of more plums from Texas and cherries from California. It's expected the first apricots will be arriving in Eastern markets next week from California.

More cantaloupes are rolling to market, the majority coming from Texas and Mexico. The first few have shown up from Arizona and California.

Another good buy, produce men add, is rhubarb, most of it grown locally.

Fruits going higher at wholesale this week included California oranges, grapefruit and apples. Florida oranges sold at about the same price as a week ago.

No one raised coffee prices this week.

Nicaragua Ends Relations With Accused Nation

By NORMAN CARIGNAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nicaraguan Ambassador Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa said today his government broke relations with Guatemala yesterday, charging that Guatemala had violated an agreement by spreading Communist propaganda in Nicaragua.

The ambassador's statement confirmed earlier word from other sources here that the diplomatic break was not directly related to a recent arms shipment from Communist Poland which President Eisenhower described yesterday as "disturbing."

But it obviously provided additional backing for the view that the Nicaraguan move would help speed up a showdown on the whole situation in Guatemala, for months the target of accusations of pro-Communist activity.

Sevilla Sacasa told a reporter his government handed passports to the Guatemalan ambassador in Managua at 5 p. m. yesterday, along with a note explaining the action.

Paper Firm Held In Court Custody Pending Payment

ELIZABETH, La., —UP— The Calcasieu Paper Co., was in court custody today as another act of violence, which might have taken the life of a mother and two children, was on record in the strife-torn community.

The multi-million dollar company was seized in an unexpected move by district court late Tuesday, pending payment of a $4,600 judgment against it.

Allan parish deputy sheriff Dallas Bertrand said Mrs. J. B. Willis saw a car stop in front of her house and a man toss out a package yesterday. She grabbed her six-year-old daughter and eight-year-old son and dashed out. Minutes later a blast heavily damaged the house.

Bertrand said the explosion was of a dynamite package which landed near the living room.

Mrs. Willis' husband is a picket at the Calcasieu company, which along with Southern Industries, has been picketed more than a year and a half in labor disputes. More than 150 acts of violence have been recorded.

Disabled War Vets Laid Off At Miss. Plant

LAUREL, Miss. (AP)—Three disabled war veterans said they were laid off their jobs here because the plant did not want to assume liability if their conditions became aggravated.

They are Clinton Lawless, 34, spokesman for the group, W. A. Ward, 24, and Johnny Rayford, 31. Lawless said the plant personnel director told him their work was satisfactory but the plant did not want to assume responsibility.

All three receive government pensions. Lawless struck at the Mississippi workmen's compensation act, saying it denied them the right to work by forcing responsibility and by denying them the right to waive their disabilities.

But in Jackson, Sam Allred, member of the workmen's compensation commission said the commission would have no jurisdiction in such a case because no accident had been reported.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Darlene Emerson, 2½, fell from the kitchen window of a third-floor apartment here yesterday and landed on a concrete sidewalk.

After an afternoon of observation at Franklin Square Hospital, she was sent home. Except for a few bruises, she was uninjured.

Prenuptial Shower Honors Bride-Elect Julia Warren

One of the loveliest pre-nuptial parties complimenting Miss Julia Ann Warren bride-elect of Richard Samuel Plemmons was a miscellaneous shower given in the home of Mrs. F. A. Brown, Sr., with Mrs. G. C. Williams, Mrs. E. M. Henderson and Mrs. W. H. Steen as co-hostesses. Mrs. F. K. Ham assisted with the courtesies of receiving the guests.

The tea table in the dining room was overlaid with an Italian-cut table cloth over pink developing the color scheme of pink and white. A crystal punch bowl surrounded with white flowers and lacy ferns graced one end of the table, while at the opposite end miniature white wedding bells extended from tall white tapers in silver holders. An arrangement of white lilies and ferns formed the centerpiece, overshadowing a replica of the bride. A cluster of wedding bells was suspended from the crystal chandelier by white satin ribbons interwoven with lacy ferns.

The buffet held an arrangement of white glads, daisies and lilies, further accentuating the pink and white motif.

Guests were received by Mrs. Brown and bride-elect, Miss Warren. Miss Warren was lovely in blue linen dress with an orchid glamelia corsage presented to her by the hostesses. Mrs. Warren, the bride-elect's mother, wore a black sheer dress with red glamelia corsage.

The hostesses presented the guest of honor with her selected crystal.

The guest list was comprised of: Miss Kitty Plemmons, Mrs. C. L. Dillingham, Mrs. Julius Nelson, Mrs. Lonnie Wilhite, Mrs. S. A. Elliott, Mrs. Julius Cathey, Miss Judith Ann Cathey, Mrs. Noah Turnipseed, Mrs. Hubert Trichel, Mrs. F. K. Ham, Mrs. N. M. Ferrell, Mrs. Alton Branch, Miss Ann Branch, Mrs. W. D. Bates, Mrs. Lillian Warren, Mrs. Delos Dennison, and Mrs. J. D. Hudson.

Students Of Mrs. Oseland Give Recital

Mrs. Thelma Oseland will present her piano, organ and voice students in a recital Friday, in the Northeast Louisiana State College auditorium. The program will start at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Oseland whose annual recitals are outstanding events in the young music world here, has again arranged an attractive program to demonstrate the talents of her pupils. Numbers ranging from simple melodies to the more difficult works presented by her advanced students are included on the well-rounded program.

Pins and certificates will be presented in the musical auditions recently held at Northeast Louisiana State College. The public is invited to attend the recital.

Holly Ridge Clubs Honor Their Parents

The FFA and FHA of the Holly Ridge High School entertained their mothers and fathers at a joint party recently in the school cafeteria. A joint program was presented before the supper. Those participating in the program were: Fred Alexander, S. D. Walker, Frances Loftin, Mrs. Mavis Fortenberry, C. K. Calloway.

Charles Walker presented honorary FFA degrees on Mr. Kyle Mills and Mr. S. D. Walker. Fay Strong announced that FHA club mothers for the coming year will be Mrs. J. W. Throver, Mrs. J. C. Collier and Mrs. B. L. Fortenberry.

One of the highlights of the occasion was the installation of officers for the two groups. Leaders in the FFA next year will be: Frances McKnight, president; Betty Throver, vice - president; Billie Nestor, secretary; Irene McManus, treasurer; Cobina Pee, parliamentarian; Carol Lester, historian; Barbara Futch, reporter; Audrey Loftin, song leader.

Officers of the FFA installed were: Lurline Dell Pee, president; Nolan Finklea, first vice - president; Oscar King, second vice-president; Bobby Walker, third vice-president; Richard McKnight, fourth vice - president; Lloyd Crain, secretary; Dennis Carroll, treasurer; Glen Morton, parliamentarian; L. J. Russell, reporter;

The last meeting of the year of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Ouachita Parish Medical Society was held on May 13 at the Bayou Desiard Country Club. Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. Glen Gallaspy, Mrs. F. H. Hammonds, Mrs. G. A. Varino, Mrs. J. E. Walsworth, Mrs. G. W. Wright, Jr., and Mrs. Roy Robertson. The speakers table was artistically centered with a colorful May Pole, and May baskets overflowing with spring flowers were placed on the other tables.

At the business meeting, at which Mrs. N. Klam, president, presided, plans were discussed for the annual convention of the auxiliary to the Louisiana State Medical Society to be held in New Orleans May 20, 21 and 22. Delegates appointed to attend this meeting were Mrs. C. T. Yancey and Mrs. H. S. Coon. Alternates were Mrs. G. T. Jackson and Mrs. Ben Cobb.

Officers for the coming year were installed by Mrs. James Schonlau, a past president. They are: President, Mrs. C. T. Yancey; president-elect, Mrs. H. S. Coon; first vice-president, Mrs. H. E. Guerriero; second vice-president, Mrs. E. L. Carroll; secretary, Mrs. Stanley Mintz; treasurer, Mrs. Morris Phillips; reporter, Mrs. Irving Wolff; historian, Mrs. J. E. Walsworth; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. E. Polen; parliamentarian, Mrs. N. Klam.

Present at this meeting were: Mrs. Prentice Gray, Jr., Mrs. Clifford W. Johnson, Mrs. C. H. Owen, guest, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, Mrs. Glenn Gallaspy, Mrs. E. L. Carroll, Columbia, Mrs. J. Q. Graves, Mrs. D. L. Anderson, Mrs. Faheam Cannon, Mrs. Morris Phillips, Mrs. Irving Wolff, Mrs. A. G. McHenry, Mrs. William E. Kramer, Mrs. W. C. Cookston, Jr., Mrs. Jack T. Jackson, Mrs. James W. Schonlau, Mrs. Ben Cobb, Mrs. N. Klam, Mrs. J. D. Kelly, Mr. Burchell Liles, Mrs. Cyrtle T. Yancey, Mrs. J. E. Walsworth, Mrs. Nathaniel R. Spencer, Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. Clifton B. Flinn, Mrs. R. W. Dickenhurst, Mrs. Henry Hammonds, Mrs. D. R. Hamilton, Mrs. George Wright, Jr., Mrs. Roy A. Kelly, Mrs. Mortimer Raphael and Mrs. R. L. Robertson.

AVA TO RETURN HOME MADRID, May 20 — UP—Ava Gardner, almost recovered from a kidney stone attack, prepared to leave Friday for London and New York. The glamorous actress took some lessons in bull-fighting from matador Luis Miguel Dominguez Tuesday while author Ernest Hemingway, an old bull-fight fan himself, looked on with approval.

Hair Stylists Charge Fraud Against Barbers

At a special meeting held at the Hotel Frances Wednesday night, local cosmetologists heard charges of "fraud" thrown at a recent effort by the Louisiana Board of Barber Examiners to license the beauticians. The efforts also carried a charge of "money grabbing and power snatching" and came in for severe criticism by beauticians representing the Monroe and surrounding areas.

The meeting last night was called to meet what beauticians felt was a double licensing by the state board. Earlier Investigator V. C. Tucker had charged that many beauticians were cutting hair in violation to state law. The law, Tucker said, stated that a license must be secured before beauticians may cut hair.

Beauticians are contending that their license gives them permission to cut the hair in their business.

The beauticians, presided over last night by Mrs. Pearl Hair, who served for four years on the Louisiana board of cosmetological examiners and six years as president of the Monroe unit of the State Cosmetological Association, endorsed a resolution setting forth the above statement which was passed by a similar gathering in Ruston recently.

Talmage Watson, of Ruston, who holds both a barber's and beautician's license, presented the Ruston resolution to the group and delivered an address in which he charged that the state board of barber examiners "is trying to build up its funds by collecting $33 from each of 10,000 beauticians to get a total of $330,000 — and then some."

Watson also presented a resolution passed by a meeting of Ruston barbers who denounced action by the barbers board to issue licenses to beauticians as "unauthorized by law."

Watson said further, "They will get even more than the $330,000, because they plan to fail 60 per cent of the beauticians who take the state barber tests. About 40 per cent will go back and give $180,000 more to take the test again."

At times the meeting last night found opposition in the ranks. Only one man in the group voiced opposition to a call for the beauty operators to ignore the barbers' board and refuse to apply for a barber's license. He was Albert Ringo, of Monroe. Ringo said he was both a licensed barber and beautician, and "I say if you can't fight it, join it." He cited a Shreveport court case where a beauty operator was fined for cutting hair.

The beauty operators asserted that they have a legal right to cut ladies' hair.

In his statement earlier yesterday, before the meeting, Tucker did not contest this right, insofar as it is "necessary incident to cosmetic practice."

Tucker cited points in both the barbers' and beauty operators' laws which separated the two trades, and said the courts have ruled that minor hair cutting operations on women's hair is legal.

"The barber board has offered to give an examination to determine whether they can cut hair or not, which several hundred have taken in Louisiana," Tucker said.

"We have several beauty shops in Monroe holding both barber and beautician licenses. They are not the ones who are complaining. It is only the ones who have been misled or the ones who want to practice in both professions without paying lawful licenses. And to the operators this offer is optional. If they cannot cut hair, naturally they will fail the examination, and should stop practicing on the public while they are learning, and comply with the law that they agreed to," Tucker continued.

He cited an agreement several years ago between barbers and beauticians as to what constituted beauty work, and what was in the field of barbering.

The beauticians last night pointed out that they were under the jurisdiction of their own state board, and "the barbers have theirs." The resolution they signed said, "The beauticians have a Beauty board known as the Board of Control of Cosmetic Therapy, and which board is capable of regulating all work coming under the practice of beauty culture. The beauticians believe that the beauty board only should have the right and power to examine and issue licenses to beauticians."

Both Mrs. Hair and Watson cited telephone conversations with Monrovia Spencer, who they said was a member of the state barber board.

Mrs. Hair said Spencer told her the license being issued to beauticians by the barber board is a standard barber's license enabling beauticians to cut "anyone's hair." She asserted that it was against the law for such licenses to be issued by the barber board, because the requirements for licensing "are established by law."

Watson said in his talk that the barber board had no authority to issue the licenses they are issuing to beauticians, as did the resolution passed by the barbers' group in Ruston.

Watson said, "I called Spencer, and told him that with 10,000 beauticians and 3,000 barbers, the beauticians would take over the barber's board."

"He told me to wait. 'You don't know what I know,'" Spencer was quoted as saying to Watson.

Watson said he then asked Spencer how he was going to stop it. "We're going to fail them," Spencer was quoted as saying. "How many, 40 to 50 per cent?" Watson said he asked Spencer. "More than that," Spencer said, according to Watson.

Mrs. Hair said she talked to Spencer on the telephone in Baton Rouge yesterday, and quoted him as telling her, "There'll be no failures. We just want to get a few beauticians here and there to get licenses, so we can walk into the other shops and stop them from breaking the law."

She said she asked Spencer what type of examination was going to be given by the barbers' board. "Oh, just practical," she quoted Spencer. She said she asked him if there were any licensed beauticians on the barbers' board, and he allegedly replied there was one.

WHERE MERCY AND WAR FLIGHTS COINCIDE — While the French stepped up air evacuation (long arrows) of their wounded from Dien Bien Phu to Hanoi by way of Luang Prabang, war planes struck at rebel troops along the strategic highway 41 (A). French planes blasted Communist-led Vietminh convoys at Moc Chau and tore up road between Tuan Giao and Son La (all underlined) to hinder rebels moving eastward from Dien Bien Phu toward the Red River Delta (shaded). Near Hanoi (B), the rebels captured a Vietnamese-manned post near Son Tay and clashed with French near Hai Duong, along the important Haiphong-Hanoi rail supply route. Other French forces mopped up enemy units near Nam Dinh. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Mrs. Hair said she asked who it was, and "he evaded the issue, changing the subject."

In a statement last night, the Journeymen Barbers' International Union of America, Local 651 in Monroe, issued a statement saying the local union will "stick with the laws regarding this matter."

"It is not the intention of the barbers to make the beauticians get a barber license," the statement said.

The statement, signed by R. G. Hale, secretary-treasurer, continued, "The state barber board has offered the beauticians a license to cut hair if they want one. If they had a license to cut hair, then they would be within the law."

"The barbers union has never tried to run anything down the beauticians' throat," Hale said. "We never intended to get involved in this matter," he concluded.

Both Mrs. Hair and Watson branded the action by the state barber board in mailing out application blanks for barbering licenses to beauticians as "purely board action." Watson said in his survey of barbers in Monroe today, the barbers did not know of the action by the barber board.

In their resolution, the beauticians asserted that "it would be almost impossible for any beautician to hold her clientele without the privilege of cutting hair."

In reference to the fees for examinations and licenses that could be collected by the barber board from beauticians, the beauticians said, "We believe that this vast sum of money in the hands of the barber board would constitute the most powerful political giant in this state and would be dangerous. It would most certainly mean the end of any hope of freedom for the beauticians and their profession."

"We the beauticians will not take the examinations nor buy the license, nor ascribe to any of their low-brow money grabbing schemes. We urge all beauticians to remain away from those examination boards, and pay nothing into their hands. . . . You owe nothing to the barber board and you will get nothing from them but headaches as past history has proven."

Conoco Firm To Place Emphasis On Advertising

The assistant division manager of Continental Oil Company, T. R. Abernathy, of Houston, Tex., told some 50 dealers and agents here that his company will "continue use of large volume local advertising" to stay in the competitive market. The statement was made at a meeting of Conoco dealers Wednesday afternoon.

Abernathy, of Houston, Tex., addressed some 50 Conoco dealers and agents at a summer merchandising meeting here. "We at Continental Oil look for 1954 to be an excellent year for petroleum retailers and wholesalers," Abernathy said, "although there is no doubt that the oil business, like others, has entered a period of aggressive competition."

Conoco will place heavy emphasis on advertising promotion, Abernathy said, in the current competitive market.

In his address to dealers in the Monroe and Grayson area, Abernathy told of plans for introducing a new product for motorists "early in June." Identity of the new product was not made public.

Assisting with the meeting here Tuesday night were: Frank Bowlers, district merchandising manager at Lafayette; Jim Sparks, district merchandising manager of Shreveport; A. S. Cox, district sales manager, Shreveport; and J. P. Logan, jobber salesman of Jackson, Miss.

Chiang Begins 2nd Term, Calls For More Arms Backing

TAIPEH, Formosa (P) — Chiang Kai-shek began his second term as president of Nationalist China today with a call for more military and moral support and a strong alliance of anti-Communist Asian nations.

Inauguration day was a festive occasion on this Nationalist Island despite the threat of Communist air attack from the nearby Red-held mainland. Thousands of exploding fire-crackers provided a noisy background as Chiang and Vice President Chen Cheng took the oath of office in a city hall built during the Japanese occupation.

In a brief inauguration address Chiang declared that his Nationalist army could recover the mainland of China if given a "reasonable amount of moral and material support from the free world and an adequate supply of the implements of war."

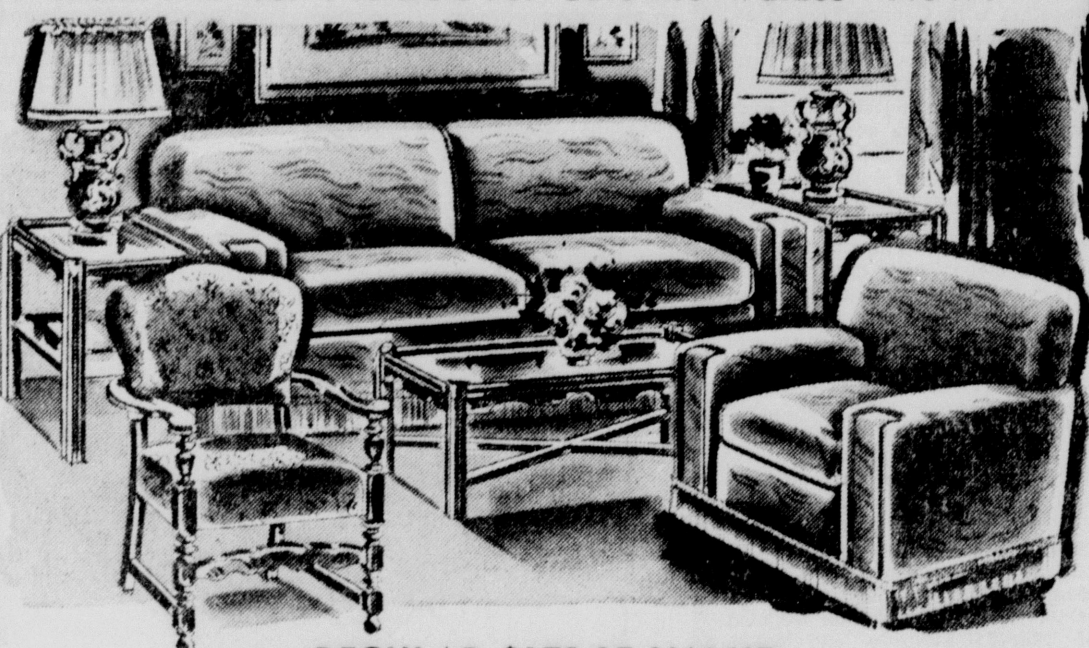

He also called on all Asian nations facing a threat of Red invasion to "establish on the Communist periphery a strong collective organization capable of collective action."

Chiefs of all diplomatic missions here were in the audience. Also attending was U. S. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and top American military and diplomatic representatives in Taipei.

Conspicuously absent was the President's wife who is in a San Francisco hospital, undergoing treatment for a skin disorder.

Lake Charles Man Accused Of Murder

LAKE CHARLES —UP— Virgil Levon Damour, 36, of Maplewood, was charged with murder today after Whitel L. Stutes, 45, of Sulphur, died in a hospital three days after being shot in a barroom brawl.

Authorities said Damour had been jailed after the shooting at Neal's Club west of Lake Charles Sunday, in which Stutes was shot in the chest, and leg. He was released, and then picked up again yesterday after Stutes died.

Stutes was a boilermaker for the M. W. Kellogg Co., which was doing work at the Cities Service refinery. Damour was a guard at the refinery.

Officials said eyewitnesses told them that Stutes slapped Damour during an argument and that Damour left and returned with a pistol getting into a fight in which four shots were fired.

Stutes, a native of Lafayette, is survived by his mother, five brothers and seven sisters.

Franklin Schools Report Burglaries

GILBERT, May 20. (Special) — Two burglaries, at Chase elementary school and Gilbert High School were being investigated by J. D. Jones, marshal of Gilbert, and Deputy Sheriff Elmer Wiggins.

According to Jones, the Chase elementary school was entered and a small quantity of milk and tomatoes taken from a refrigerator, and a butcher knife, ice pick and a still picture projector stolen.

Miss Ena McDuff, teacher at Chase, told the marshal that it looked like someone had drunk some milk and eaten some tomatoes out of the ice box, he said.

Entry was gained by breaking a window pane, and reaching through and unlatching a window.

At Gilbert High School an ice pick was used to pry the window open, pens were removed from a closet door near the principal's office and a steel locker inside the closet was pried open.

Principal B. R. Gunn, reported that $42 and some odd cents was missing from the locker. He said it was the weekly lunch money which had been collected Monday. It was scheduled to be taken to the bank on Tuesday.

That was all that was taken at the Gilbert School, officers said, but the knife and ice pick taken from the Chase School were found inside the Gilbert School.

The Chase School is four miles north of Gilbert.

Accused German Won't Serve As U. N. Observer

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Peter Pfeiffer, criticized in the United States as having a Nazi record, will not become West Germany's observer at U. N. headquarters.

A U. N. announcement last night said Pfeiffer's appointment had been withdrawn. Presumably Dr. Hans E. Riesen, present West German observer, will continue in the post.

The Jewish Labor Committee of New York and Rep. Javits (R-N.Y.) were among those who protested after Pfeiffer's appointment was announced last February.

Pfeiffer held diplomatic posts under the Nazis in Prague, Moscow, Paris and Rome. He was classified after the war as only a nominal member of the party, who joined to hold his government job.

Special Unit Radar-Planes To Guard US

WASHINGTON, May 20 — UP— The Air Force has disclosed the formation of a special unit of radar-bearing planes to guard the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts from surprise atomic attack.

The crews are now being trained on the West Coast. Several squadrons of about 10 planes each are expected to be flying eventually from strategic locations on both the East and West Coasts.

Operating under the Air Defense Command, the planes are modified versions of the Super-Constellation transport. They will carry more than five and one-half tons of electronic, communications and navigation equipment.

The unit is being organized into the first Air Force airborne early warning and control division with headquarters at McClellan Air Force Base, Sacramento, Calif. It will be commanded by Col. Kenneth H. Gibson, a native of Salt Lake City.

The Air Force said the airborne patrol operations will be a 24 hour, 7 day a week responsibility. Air Secretary Harold E. Talbott said the purpose of the new early warning and control division, activated on May 1, is to "augment the ship-to-shore radar and ground observer corps system which is now operating to provide warning of a hostile air attack."

The Navy is buying similar Constellation aircraft for covering task forces, detecting enemy surface forces and supplementing the air defense system.

No Money, No Girl

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Larry Williams lost his wallet containing $160 in cash and a $490 diamond ring he planned to give to his girl.

Someone tossed the wallet, which contained Williams' business address, through his office door yesterday. The money was gone but the ring was still there.

But Williams said today he can't marry his girl without any money.

CALIFORNIA DRINKING SACRAMENTO — UP — Figures compiled by the California department of finance show that each of the state's 8,457,000 adults consumes annually an average of 2.38 gallons of hard liquor, 22.3 gallons of beer, 1.1 of dry wine, 1.9 of sweet wine and a half-gallon of sparkling wine.

Property Owners Vote School Tax

WINNSBORO, May 20. (Special) —The five mill Franklin Parish school tax issue was reported carried by a large majority, according to an announcement made by parish school Superintendent W. D. Glover.

The proposal approved by voters was for the continuation for a five-year period of a five-mill school support tax, which had been in effect for the past five years.

Voting in the election were 284 property owners. For the tax were 279 persons representing property with a total valuation of $1,040,020. Against it were five voters representing property valued at $54,900. The parish school board made the way.

Goes To Jail For Illegal Piano Dealing

BALTIMORE (AP)—Robert F. McFarlane was sent to prison for three years yesterday because police said he had a custom of ordering pianos and organs for churches, then selling them without paying the music firms in full.

The 50-year-old defendant posed as a minister when operating his scheme, it was testified.

McFarlane pleaded he had made restitution of all but $800 and was prepared to take care of that.

SAVE ON TRAIL BLAZERS

Trail Blazer is made of the same top quality materials that go into Wards higher-priced Deluxe tires. The difference? Trail Blazer's tread is not quite as wide, nor quite as deep, so it won't run as many miles. But they are safe miles. Wards Trail Blazer is built to be the best tire in the low priced field. Come in—let us prove it.

Asparagus Tips Tops In Vegetables

If there is anything more luscious among vegetables than fresh green asparagus with Hollandaise Sauce we have yet to eat it! We urge you to enjoy this combination at least once during the asparagus season. You don't have to be afraid of this high-falutin' sauce; if you follow our recipe to the letter you will make it successfully.

We should also like to persuade you to peel the asparagus spears almost up to the tips. We use a swivel-blade vegetable peeler that is razor-sharp for this chore. Peeled, the whole spear can be eaten and enjoyed.

Our favorite way of cooking asparagus is in a deep skillet with a tight-fitting dome-type cover. If you have peeled the spears you will find the stalks and the tips cook in the same time. For a pound of asparagus we use the 8-inch size covered skillet with about 1/2 cup boiling water. When we are cooking a large bunch of asparagus—usually 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 pounds—we use the 10- or 12-inch skillet with 3/4 cup water. We do not salt the asparagus when we plan to serve it with Hollandaise sauce made with salted butter or margarine, because in this case the sauce usually supplies enough salt.

HOLLANDAISE sauce provides that extra touch for asparagus tips when you serve them.

If you do not have deep skillets with covers in your kitchen of cooking asparagus given below. You can peel the spears or not, as you like.

Fresh asparagus should be kept cool from the time it is cut until it is used. Store the asparagus in moisture-proof bags or a crisper in the refrigerator as it toughens quickly. When you are buying asparagus, look for bright green spears that have closed compact tips. Asparagus whose tips have lost their freshness is no bargain.

Fresh green asparagus is a good source of vitamin A and vitamin C (ascorbic acid). White or bleached asparagus has little vitamin A but it does have the same amount of vitamin C as does green. Asparagus With Lime Hollandaise Sauce.

Ingredients: 2 pounds fresh asparagus, boiling water, Lime Hollandaise Sauce.

Method: Wash asparagus and tie in two bundles. Place upright in the bottom part of a double boiler. Pour in boiling water so it is about 1-inch high in pan. Cover with inverted top of double boiler. Boil until lower part of stalks are tender when tested with a fork—12 to 15 minutes. Drain. Serve with Lime Hollandaise Sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Lime Hollandaise Sauce

Ingredients: 6 tablespoons margarine (1/4 stick), 1 tablespoon fresh lime juice, 3 egg yolks.

Method: Cut margarine into small pieces and put into top of small double boiler; add lime juice and egg yolks. Place over hot, not boiling, water; see that water does not touch bottom of upper part of double boiler. Cook and beat constantly with a rotary beater or a wire whisk until as thick as mayonnaise. Remove from heat at once. Spoon over centers of 4 to 6 servings of hot cooked asparagus. Makes two-thirds to almost almost 1 cup sauce, depending on size of egg yolks.

Spice Leaves Add Variety To German Potato Salad

Ever use rosemary, marjoram or basil leaves to vary your cooking? These spices really put new into your menus. This recipe for German potato salad, from Mrs. W. Bosley Bond of Northbrook, Ill., will prove it.

German Potato Salad

(Yield: 8 to 10 servings)

Eight slices bacon, 3 tablespoons flour, 4 teaspoons chopped onion, 2-3 cup vinegar, 2-3 cup water, 1/2 cup sugar, 4 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1 teaspoon powdered dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon crumbled whole rosemary leaves, 2 quarts cooked diced potatoes, 1/2 cup chopped fresh parsley.

Fry bacon crisp. Remove from pan and drain and crumble. To the bacon fat left in the pan, add flour and onions. Stir in vinegar, water, sugar, salt and spices.

Cook only until medium thickness. Add to potatoes, parsley and crumbled bacon. Mix carefully with 2 forks to prevent mashing the potatoes.

Scotch Barley Broth

(Yield: 8 large servings)

Tow lamb shanks, 2 tablespoons soft shortening, 2 quarts water, 5 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1 1/2 teaspoons crumbled whole rosemary leaves, 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley, 1/2 cup Scotch barley, 1 cup sliced fresh carrots, 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1/2 cup chopped celery.

Brown lamb shanks in hot shortening. Place in a saucepan along with water, salt, spices and parsley. Cover. Simmer one hour. Add barley and cook one more hour. Cool. Remove shank and skin off excess fat. Cook only until vegetables are tender.

Note: If desired, use the lamb bone left from Sunday's lamb roast plus only one lamb shank for making the above Scotch Barley Broth.

Baccalaureate At Dodson Sunday

RUSTON, May 19 (Special)—Opening the current graduation exercises at Louisiana Tech, baccalaureate services will be conducted at 8 p. m. Sunday, May 23, with the sermon to be delivered by Dr. H. L. Johns, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Monroe. Commencement is scheduled for Friday night, May 28, at 8 o'clock, when 157 degrees will be conferred. The address will be given by Carl J. Eckhardt, professor of mechanical engineering at the University of Texas. His subject will be "The Life Which Lies Ahead Can Be Beautiful." Previously, Dr. Clark Barrow of Baton Rouge had accepted an invitation to deliver the commencement address but circumstances prevented his coming here, President R. L. Ropp said.

The program for the baccalaureate

SOUTH MONROE CARRIERS for the News-Star—World anticipate a hard-fought battle of superior salesmanship and good route management, in their rivalry with the Northside of Monroe and West Monroe for vacation trips to the historical port city of New Orleans and the beautiful Gulf Coast. The four weeks contest will be scored on points earned and besides the four top vacation awards, there will be six other valuable cash prizes. Back row, left to right, district manager D. C. Stringer, who chose as representative of his group Billy Greenlee, Miller Robbins, and David Wright. In the front row, Richard Johnson and Damon McDonald.

reates exercises will be as follows:

CIO, Steel Corp. Get Down To Fine Points In Parley

By JOHN MOODY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The 1954 contract talks for the basic steel industry got down to the fine points today as U. S. Steel Corp. meets the CIO United Steelworkers for a second day of negotiations.

The union presented its demands yesterday in a 1 1/2-hour meeting with the nation's biggest steel-producing firm.

David J. McDonald, USW president, said he "hopes for a speedy and equitable disposition of the issues."

Vice President John A. Stephens, who is heading the corporation's 60-man negotiating team, said he will ask the union for more specific details and the reasoning in back of them.

Neither side would comment on the estimated cost of the demands, but the union said it wants a wage hike, a guaranteed annual wage, improvements in pensions and hospitalization and other changes in the present contract, which expires June 30.

The union is currently seeking contracts for about 600,000 of its 1,200,000 members. Bargaining sessions are scheduled with several other major basic steel producers later this week.

U. S. Steel, however, is looked upon as the industry pace setter. The union opened the contract talks with about 190,000 of its members out of work and another 257,000 working less than 40 hours a week as a result of a six-month-old slump in the steel business.

Begin Studying How To Comply With Court Rule

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—The Greensboro School Board has told its superintendent of schools to start studying "ways and means for complying with" the Supreme Court decision that racially segregated public schools are unconstitutional.

Members said after passing the resolution 6-1 last night they consider it the first official affirmative reaction to the decision taken in states practicing school segregation.

Board Chairman D. E. Hudgins introduced the resolution. He said its adoption "would let the community, the state, the South and if necessary the nation know that we propose to live under the rule of law."

"We must not fight or attempt to circumvent it," he declared.

AT LEADING GROCERS

'Angel Of Dien Bien Phu' To Be Flown Out

HANOI, May 19.—UP—The Communist Viet Minh promised Wednesday to free captured nurse Genevieve de Galard Terraube, "the angel of Dien Bien Phu."

She was the only woman inside the isolated French fortress during its 56 days of bitter siege and its final fall to the Reds.

French sources here said Genevieve probably will be flown out of Dien Bien Phu on the French helicopter airlift to Luang Prabang and thence by hospital plane to Hanoi.

A rousing welcome for her was being prepared in Hanoi.

The first announcement that the Reds would free the heroine-nurse was made earlier Wednesday at the Far Eastern conference in Geneva.

Tran Trong Khat, press spokesman for the Red Indo-Chinese delegation said Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, conqueror of Dien Bien Phu, had decided to free his only woman prisoner.

Genevieve went to Indo-China last fall after signing up as a French air force nurse.

She made several trips into Dien Bien Phu in C-47's and helicopters early in March to evacuate the wounded in complete disregard of enemy gunfire.

Genevieve's helicopter was put out of action by enemy artillery on March 27. From then on it was impossible for the nurse to leave the fortress area.

Three days before the fall of Dien Bien Phu, while bombs and shells fell on the command post, it was announced that she had been made a member of the legion of honor.

Heart Patients Are Advised To Return To Work

NEW ORLEANS, May 19. (Special)—A heart specialist at the Louisiana State University School of Medicine said many people are hurting themselves by retiring from industrial jobs following a heart attack.

"Studies prove that cardiac patients can and should return to work and engage in active living," said Dr. Andrew Kerr of the Louisiana Heart Association and faculty member at the LSU School of Medicine. In addition, he emphasized that industries are finding the rehiring of cardiacs to be "good business" for such persons actually decrease accident and absenteeism rates.

Studies made by life insurance companies on men who were completely disabled for a time show that they can resume work without the fear of being stricken suddenly, he said.

"Activity does not precipitate heart attacks, although unusually strenuous work is dangerous; more attacks occur during sleep than at any other time." There are far too many inactive persons who would help themselves by returning to work he said, "and it is my opinion that fear causes more unemployment than the disease itself."

Will a man shorten his days on earth by continuing his work? Dr. Kerr believes not. He said the longevity outlook for these persons is almost as good as the rest of the population and better than similar cases who do not return to work. In addition, psychological satisfaction of being a wage earner promotes his mental health, the LSU doctor said.

"Heart attacks usually hit a wage earner at his most productive years, 45-60." With proper selection and common sense, he said, about 80 per cent of these persons can return to work in lighter occupations and about 70 per cent can continue in full-time industrial work.

Although most people consider only financial benefits from continued work, the L. S. U. doctor said certain of the complications of heart disease are prevented by an early return to normal activity.

Try Tamales And Chile Mac

Chili Mac and hot tamales are two of the things we enjoyed in San Francisco. Now back home with a batch of San Francisco recipes, we'll start with those Mrs. Ralph J. A. Stern gave us. She comes of pioneering stock (so do we) and the Sterns are noted for their patio suppers.

Chili Mac

(Yield: 8 to 10 servings)

Two tablespoons bacon drippings, 1 cup chopped onion, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 1 pound ground lean beef, 1 No. 2 can kidney beans, 2 teaspoons chili powder, 2 teaspoons salt, 5 ounces elbow macaroni, uncooked.

Cook first 4 ingredients in a 9 or 10-inch skillet until browned, about 15 minutes. Stir in remaining ingredients. Cover. Cook slowly until macaroni is tender (about 15 to 20 minutes).

Tamale Pie

(Yield: 6 to 8 servings)

Three quarters cup ripe olives, 1/4 cup diced onion, 1 cup chopped celery, 1 clove garlic, minced, 3/4 pound ground lean beef, 1 tablespoon olive oil, 3 cups canned tomatoes, 3/4 cup corn meal, 1 1/4 cups whole-kernel corn, 3 to 4 teaspoons chili powder, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup grated sharp Cheddar Cheese.

Cut olives into large pieces. Brown onion, celery, garlic and beef in hot olive oil. Heat tomatoes in saucepan and stir in the corn meal. Cook until thickened (about 10 minutes), stirring constantly to prevent sticking to pan.

Blend in corn chili powder, Worcestershire sauce, salt, olives and cooked meat. Turn into a greased 1 1/2-quart casserole. Top with grated cheese. Bake 1 hour in moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Garnish with whole olives.

Ellis Charges Ellender With Farmer Neglect

BATON ROUGE —UP— Frank B. Ellis, national Democratic committeeman for Louisiana, opened his campaign for the U. S. Senate here last night with a charge that his opponent, Sen. Allen J. Ellender has "neglected" Louisiana farmers.

Ellis said Louisiana's cotton acreage allocations are lower than those of Arkansas, Texas and Missouri. "The cotton farmer of Louisiana is being crucified," he declared. "Where was the senior senator?"

Ellis said that Ellender, ranking member of the senate agriculture committee, "won the first time by accident" 18 years ago and that "I'm going to run him out of office. I can give a new blood and get out of the old ditch."

He promised to "strike down the Communists where we find them" and to work for tax relief.

Harrisonburg To Graduate Tonight

HARRISONBURG, May 19 (Special) — Commencement exercises for 22 Harrisonburg High School seniors will be held at the school auditorium here Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Dr. Leo T. Albritten, dean of Northwestern State College, will deliver the major address. Honor students are Faye Husbands who will give the valedictory address and Jo Ann Richardson, who will deliver the salutatory address.

Graduates are Gene Randall, Faye Husbands, Dorothy Harard, Shirley Chapman, Hazel Berry, Lila Roader, Berdman Triche, Lila Mae Triche, Jo Ann Poole, Bonnie Hargood, Edward Greer, Mrs. Angell Franklin, Russ Ray Johnson, Margena Stockman, James Hutchins, Bonnie Jones, Wayne Huff, Leslie Mae Floyd, Dewey Watson, Buster Womack, Basil Trunkler, and Jo Ann Richardson.

Red Critic Pans Kinsey Sex Report

MOSCOW, May 19 —UP—Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey's research on sex received its first official recognition Wednesday by a Russian critic who analyzed it as "tens of thousands of writings and drawings—on the walls of public toilets."

The Indiana professor's book on "The Sexual Behavior in the Human Female" was described—eight months after its publication in the United States—as "despicable."

D. Y. Leonov, reviewing Kinsey's findings in the Soviet magazine, "Problems of Philosophy," said the report was "nothing more than the cheapest pornographic hash, clumsily masked as science."

Leonov wrote that Kinsey's writings were comparable with those of Henry Miller, whose "Tropic of Capricorn" and "Tropic of Cancer" can not be brought legally into the United States, and mystery writer Mickey Spillane.

Kinsey, Leonov wrote, reveals in "sexual perversion and disgusting love stories about 90-year-old women and nauseating digging into the sufferings and sensations of prostitutes. Such is the contents of this book."

Leonov said Kinsey's writings served the ends of "American reaction... imperialists... apologists for the imperialist principle of exploitation... sociological Darwinists and Freudians."

Prisoners Taken To Angola And Jackson

Ouachita Parish Deputy Sheriff Raymond Knowles took one man to Angola and another to the East Louisiana State Hospital at Jackson, Wednesday. Sheriff Bailey Grant said Wednesday Knowles left early this morning and will return tonight.

Sheriff Grant identified the man taken to the state penitentiary at Angola as George O. Dyer, charged with burglary of the Wright-Bendel clinic.

Henry Austin, Monroe Negro charged with burglary, was taken to the Jackson hospital for psychoanalysis.

School Principal Will Be Honored

DUBACH, May 19 (Special) — Bert Warren, principal of the Dubach High School for the past 18 years, will be honored at a tea in the recreation room of the Dubach Methodist Church Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m.

Warren will retire at the end of this school year.

Churches sponsoring the event are as follows: Fellowship Baptist, New Passport Baptist, Hilly Methodist, Dubach Methodist and other Baptist and Pentecostal churches.

Edwards Elected Mayor Of Jena

JENA, May 19 (Special)—Nick Edwards was elected mayor of Jena with unofficial complete tabulations showing that he defeated his opponent E. W. Plummer by 32 votes.

Nearly a 100 per cent vote was registered in the second primary. Edwards received 426 votes and Plummer 394.

Edwards, a former member of the city council, is a restaurant operator and Plummer is retiring this year as visiting teacher in La-Salle Parish.

Roswell Wives Do Dusting With Shovels After Storm

ROSSELL, N.M., May 19—UP—Housewives in this southeast New Mexico drouth town did their dusting with shovels Wednesday, after a two-inch rain produced a sizeable flood.

Damage was estimated at $1,000 to homes, business and automobiles washed by the torrents which sprang up in dry arroyos and river beds during the two-hour downpour.

Forty miles to the southeast, two-thirds of the homes in the town of Lovington were deluged by the cloudburst. Desert flats were submerged for miles around the town of 500, and damage in Lovington was estimated at $500,000.

Roswell, with a population of 26,000, was a muddy mess for the most part. At least 500 homes were damaged as water poured through windows and washed smaller furniture out the opposite windows. Automobiles were bowled over and at least one house was floated off its foundation and into the bed of Spring River.

No one was injured during the flash floods and no one was reported missing. Gov. Ed Mecham sent National Guard troops to both cities to help clear debris from the streets and lend a hand to more distressed homeowners. Although 1,800 persons were temporarily forced from their homes, most found shelter with neighbors.

A representative from the small business agency at Denver flew to Roswell Tuesday to check the damage and determine whether merchants needed federal credit to replenish spoiled stocks and repair their places of business.

The Spring and Hondo rivers began to recede before noon at Roswell, permitting National Guardsmen and residents to begin the cleanup job.

The main problem remaining was for housewives whose furniture, carpets and floors were encrusted with silt.

Three Aldermen Elected In L. P.

LAKE PROVIDENCE, May 19 (Special) — Complete unofficial returns for the second primary election held here Tuesday revealed that three men were elected to the town council out of six candidates.

The three winners in today's election were: Leon Minsky, a local druggist with 495 votes; Devall Purdy, local pharmacist with 486 votes; and the incumbent, Howard C. White, local grocer with 482 votes.

CAUSE NUISANCE

SMITHFIELD, R. I. —Dog officer Warren Manchester says so many dogs are following children to school that they are causing a nuisance, distract children in their classes, by fighting in the schoolyard and create accident hazards by running into the street.

He suggested last night that the dogs be kept near home during school hours.

The first permanent theater built in America was erected in Philadelphia in 1766.

35 Witnesses To Testify In Drive For Flood Funds

WASHINGTON, May 20 (Special)—Congressman Otto E. Passman announced today that he expected to "bring at least 35 witnesses from Louisiana" in support of the Old River control structure in Concordia Parish.

Rep. Passman made this statement after an agreement had been reached with George Dondero, chairman of the House public works committee on a two-day hearing about the project.

Rep. Passman said that the purpose of the hearing was "to get an authorization approved during this session of Congress which will place the Louisiana delegation in a position to go before the budget bureau to recommend sufficient funds to start the project next year." The congressman also declared that the project is an emergency with the people throughout this part of the state.

The project would stop the certain theft of Mississippi waters by the Atchafalaya River in diverting them through its channel to the Gulf. If this threat is not taken care of in the very near future, the course of the Mississippi will be changed by 1965.

Passman is asking the committee for $47 million for the project but this amount will not include the navigation locks which will have to be authorized at a later date.

FAMILY LUNCH

Try this delicious omelet for a variation on the egg theme.

Puffy Asparagus
Crisp Bacon Omelet
Sliced Tomatoes with French Dressing

Bread and Butter
Fruit
Beverage

Puffy Asparagus Omelet

Ingredients: 1 cup fresh asparagus (cut into 1-inch pieces), ½ cup boiling water, ½ teaspoon salt, 5 eggs (separated), 5 tablespoons milk, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon finely chopped onion, 1½ tablespoons bacon fat.

Method: Cook asparagus only until just tender in the ½ cup boiling water and ½ teaspoon salt in a covered saucepan; drain. Beat together well the egg yolks, milk, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper and onion. With clean beater, beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks and carefully fold in the beaten egg yolks and drained asparagus. Heat bacon fat in a 9 or 10-inch skillet with a heat-resistant handle, tipping skillet to grease entire bottom and sides. When fat is hot enough to sizzle a drop of water, lower heat and pour in omelet mixture. Cook over very low heat until well puffed over the top and golden brown underneath—about 10 minutes. (Test by gently raising omelet with spatula.) Place in preheated slow (325°F) oven until top springs back when pressed with fingers—8 to 10 minutes. With a spatula make a crease across the center of the omelet and fold over and away from the handle. Slip onto a hot tilted platter. Makes 4 servings.

PORCH SNACK

Brown-sugar flavor and flecks of chocolate make these cookies something to remember.

Cucumber and Water Cress Sandwiches

Crisp Walnut Drop Cookies

Tea with Lemon

Crisp Walnut Drop Cookies

Ingredients: 1½ cups sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup butter or margarine, 1 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg, ½ cup finely cut semisweet chocolate, ½ cup chopped walnuts.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, brown sugar and vanilla; beat in egg thoroughly. Stir in sifted dry ingredients until blended; stir in chocolate and walnuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate (375°F) oven 10 to 12 minutes. Remove to wire rack with spatula to cool. Makes about 3½ dozen cookies.

FAMILY DINNER

At this season of the year, peas and green onions taste just right!

Baked Chicken
Baked Potatoes
Peas and Green Onions
Hot Biscuits
Ice Cream
Beverage

Peas and Green Onions

Ingredients: 2 pounds green peas, 4 green onions (scallions), ½ cup boiling water, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine.

Method: Shell peas and put in saucepan. Clean onions and slice in ½-inch pieces, including green part; add to peas with water, salt and butter. Bring to a boil quickly; reduce heat and cover, but keep boiling rapidly until peas are tender. Serve with pan liquid in sauce dishes if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Try Baby Octopus For Delicious Dish

A delicious dish of baby octopus, that little eight-legged cephalopod, can be prepared in a jiffy by any two-handed housewife, according to Jim Beard in the June issue of Argosy Magazine. Mr. Beard's article, "A Fine Kettle of Fish," demonstrates that simple cooking technique is all that is required to make this really exotic fish dish. He stresses that the ingredients should be baby octopus, measuring only five inches across.

The directions for "Argosy Octopus" are simple. To prepare two dozen, clean, rinse, and place in a baking pan; add 2 to 3 cloves of garlic, 1/2 cup of olive oil, 1/4 cup of red wine, lemon juice, salt, pepper and a pinch of fennel.

Cover the pan and steam on top of the stove, or in a 350 degree oven, for a half-hour. Then, Argosy recommends, eat - and make another batch!

Earthquake In Peru

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Ed.
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

1. SHOULD YOUNG WOMEN
TODAY PLAN A CAREER
WITH MARRIAGE?
YES ☐ NO ☐

2. CAN YOU TEACH ALL
CHILDREN TO BE GOOD
SPELLERS?
YES ☐ NO ☐

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. A New York publicist says "It's not an easy program. Many husbands object. But a career is possible to some extent during the child-bearing period, and a full-time career afterward. You do not have to become the 'old-fashioned girl' or the perennial glamor girl. Another reason to use your heads as well as hearts to find the right man."

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes, but harder with some than others. An educator suggests: teacher write word for child; must learn meaning and pronunciation; must study word until he knows it; must say word as a whole and by syllables. Then word removed from sight and written from memory. Writing letters to real people helps.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No according to Iowa University students who rated traits desirable in a mate. Girls rated "emotional maturity," "love of home life," "pleasing disposition" and "companionship" tops, with good looks 17th. Boys rated "companionship," "mutual attraction," "sociability" and "good cooking," with scarcely a mention for looks.

Rebels Intensify Drive On Flanks Of Hanoi Citadel

HANOI, Indo-China, May 20—UP—Artillery - supported Communist Viet Minh troops, driving on Hanoi from the southwest, attacked three strongpoints Wednesday on the southern flank of the Red River delta and threatened the key town of Phu Ly.

The Reds overran one strong point, taking "heavy" French casualties. They besieged and shelled a second outpost, but French fighter bombers aided the garrison of the third position in smashing the rebel attack.

French Chief of Staff Gen. Paul Ely and his top aides conferred at headquarters in Hanoi with Supreme Commander Gen. Henri Navarre in an emergency council of war. They worked over plans for a defense of the vital triangle defenses of the river delta.

The high command said that the French suffered "heavy" losses when strong Red Rebel forces, supported by mortar and field-gun fire, engulfed the outpost in the village of Thuc Hoa, southwest of Hanoi.

In the second prong of a three-point rebel assault Viet Minh regulars attacked Yen Phu, seven miles south of Phu Ly, one of the anchor-towns in the French defenses 35 miles southwest of Hanoi.

American - supplied fighter bombers were rushed to the aid of the French garrison at Yen Phu and helped beat off the Reds.

Rebel forces laid a heavy barrage of mortar and artillery fire on a road 34 miles east of Phu Ly. The Reds inched close enough to the French defenses to riddle them with machinegun fire.

Military circles in Hanoi said that some action had to be taken at once to check the rapidly deteriorating situation in northern Indo-China.

Well informed sources said that the generals considered three solutions to the problem: Defense of the entire delta; maintenance of a bridgehead at Haiphong, the port of Hanoi, and evacuation of the rest of the delta; and the evacuation of all of Tonkin, the northeastern part of Indo-China.

French fighter - bombers and bombers Wednesday roared down Colonial Route 41 east from the ruined fortress of Dien Bien Phu to the delta and bombed the area around Tuan Giao, headquarters of rebel Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap.

Returning pilots said the road was blown up at five points. The French ceased bombing the road last week so the Viet Minh could evacuate Communist wounded from Dien Bien Phu.

However, the bombing of the road was resumed when the French found Giap was taking advantage of the cease-fire to move large units of troops and anti-aircraft along the route, French headquarters said.

DRAFTEES & VETERANS GUIDE

By MAJOR THOMAS M. NIAL

Medical Care Program

The Defense Department for some time has had its eye on the medical care program for dependents of servicemen.

Now the department has asked Congress to make medical care practices the same throughout all the services.

It's impossible to compare the present program of dependent medical care with the proposed program because present practices vary widely from service to service and even between military posts.

Here's what the proposal would do:

First of all, only eligible dependents of any member of the Armed Forces would be considered for the medical care. Dependents of reservists on active duty of more than 90 days would also be eligible, but dependents of reservists on short training tours would not be.

Eligible dependents would be the wife or husband, children, parents and parents-in-law of a serviceman if they're dependent on the serviceman for more than half of their support. Also eligible would be widows and dependent children of servicemen who die while in the armed forces, but care for them would be provided only in military hospitals.

Medical care for these dependents would include diagnosis, care for bad medical and surgical troubles, treatment of contagious diseases, immunization and maternity and infant care.

The services would not provide domiciliary care or care for chronic diseases, nervous or mental ailments. They also would limit ambulance service and home calls. Hearing aids, glasses and such devices generally would not be provided unless dependents couldn't get them from civilian sources.

Generally, medical care for dependents would be provided by military doctors and hospitals. But where the services couldn't give the authorized care it could be provided through civilian doctors and hospitals. Civilian medical treatment could also be given at any time in emergency cases.

Dependents would be required to contribute to the costs of the care. When civilian care is given, they'd have to pay the first $10 of the cost of each illness, plus not more than 10 per cent of the total cost, except in maternity cases for which there would be no charge. Schedules of charges for care by military doctors and hospitals have not been fixed as yet. It's up to the secretary of defense to fix them.

Dental treatment for dependents generally would be provided only in emergencies and then only at military posts. Of course, in foreign countries where civilian dental treatment might not be available, treatment would be provided by the services.

In any case, medical treatment of dependents by military doctors and hospitals would be restricted to available space and manpower. And dependents' care would not be allowed to interfere with medical care for servicemen.

The bill also would allow the secretary of defense to contract for dependent medical care under a private insurance plan if such were found to be more economical.

(You may write Major Nial in care of News-Star about your service-connected problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents in coin.) (From AP Newstextures)

Add a glamorous topping of spiced sour cream to your next canned cling peach pie. For spring, a lattice-topped pie would be nice to show off the lovely color of the cling peach slices. Serve the pie lukewarm.

It Is Orange Blossom Party Time

The bride-to-be is trying on her veil—orange blossoms nestling in a crown of gauzy tulle. Wedding bells will be ringing, come June, and it's time for friends of engaged couples to entertain them.

If the party is to be informal, hamburgers and frankfurters on toasted buns and rolls are fine—but serve them with some dash! Have an assortment of relishes with the hamburgers—everything from artichoke pickle to chutney—and don't forget the sweet onion rings. Choose glamorous Bahamatype mustard to accompany the frankfurters along with tomato wedges to eat out of hand.

If you are bent on more formal food, lobster salad is still as delicious and appropriate as it was in the Gay Nineties, when it was standard fare for all bridal colla-tions. Or how about cold ham and turkey with green beans vinaigrette and romaine? With either course, serve small buttered rolls—the kind that are topped with an egg wash to make them shiny and festive.

Whether your party is informal or formal, we suggest Orange-Strawberry Parfaits for dessert. This recipe is one you'll want to use year-round because it's made with always-available oranges and ice cream, and frozen strawberries may be used when fresh ones aren't in season.

Orange Strawberry Parfaits
Ingredients: 6 very large oranges, 1 1/4 cups sugar, 1/4 cup water, 2 pints fresh strawberries, 2 quarts vanilla ice cream, 16 whole strawberries.

Method: Peel oranges, slice and cut into bite-size wedges; there should be 4 cups. Place in container that has a cover; a glass casserole is fine. Cut most of the white membrane from some of the orange peel; then using a sharp paring knife or kitchen scissors, cut enough peel into very narrow strips to make 1/4 cup. The strips will be most attractive if you cut some long and some short. Put sugar, water and orange peel strips into a saucepan; stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Increase heat and bring to a boil; boil gently 8 minutes. Pour hot syrup over orange wedges; cool; cover and refrigerate 1 to 2 days to mellow. Makes 1 quart. When you are ready to serve the parfaits, put some of the ice cream in the bottom of a parfait or other footed glass; arrange some of the orange wedges and syrup, and strawberries over the ice cream. Fill glasses, alternating layers of fruit and ice cream. Garnish with whole strawberries. Serve at once. Makes 16 parfaits.

Note: If you are serving only 8, use 2 cups of the oranges with 1 pint strawberries and 1 quart vanilla ice cream. Keep the remaining 2 cups oranges in the refrigerator for another time—they are delicious over sponge cake with a topping of whipped cream; over vanilla pudding, tapioca cream or custard; or over sliced ripe bananas. Frozen strawberries may be used instead of fresh; use 2 packages for 16 parfaits, 1 package for 8.

FROZEN WAFFLES

Try this quickie dessert on your family and guests tonight. Brush quick frozen waffles with melted butter and sprinkle with chopped roasted almonds. Place in a hot oven until heated through. Serve immediately with a scoop of chocolate ice cream.

ORANGE STRAWBERRY PARFAIT — Perfect dessert.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: I am a victim of cerebral palsy, with the result that I cannot run and play, or work like others my age. Next year I shall be a senior in high school. Is there any future for me? E. C. B.

ANSWER: Someone has well said that the future is as bright as the promises of God. The fact that you are limited in some areas such as running or walking need not limit your usefulness in other areas. Your high school will be glad to give you vocational tests so that you might learn where your aptitudes lie. With good advice from your parents, your pastor, and your pastor you should prepare for some definite vocation in which your physical handicap need not be a hindrance at all. Some of the most courageous and contagious Christians I have ever known have shared your same handicap, and instead of being defeated by it, they have risen above it and have become a great challenge and blessing to many.

Woman Spice
Grinder Proud
Of Her Cake

America's only woman spice grinder lives in Boston, Mass. She is Mrs. Roxanna Beebe-Center, the head of the country's oldest spice milling firm. She is also an expert at using spices in recipes.

Spiced Bean
(Yield: 16 servings)
Four cups (2 pounds) dried beans, 4 teaspoons salt, 1 large onion, 1-3 cup brown sugar, ½ cup catsup, ¼ teaspoon ground ginger, ½ teaspoon ground cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper, 2 teaspoons powdered dry mustard, ½ pound salt pork.

Wash beans and cover with cold water. Soak overnight. When ready to cook, add salt and onion (cut in half) and, if necessary, add additional water to cover. Bring just to boiling point. Lower heat and simmer only until tender in covered saucepan. Remove onion.

Drain and save liquid for later use. Combine brown sugar, catsup, spices and 3 cups bean liquid. Wash salt pork. Place half the pork and half the onion in the bottom of the bean pot. Add beans. Place remaining pork and onion over beans. Add liquid mixture. Cover.

Bake 1½ hours in a slow oven (325 degrees F.). Remove cover. Lift pork to the top of the beans. Bake 15 to 20 minutes or until pork is brown.

French Spice Cake
(Yield: one 8-inch tube cake)

One and three-quarters cups sifted cake flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoons cream of tartar, ½ teaspoon ground ginger, ½ teaspoon ground nutmeg, ½ teaspoon ground cloves, ½ cup butter or margarine, ¼ teaspoon soda, 1 cup sugar, 5 egg yolks, 1 whole egg, ½ cup milk, 1-3 cup seedless raisins.

Sift together the first 6 ingredients. (Save 3 tablespoons flour mixture to mix with raisins.) Cream butter or margarine and soda together until fluffy. Gradually blend in sugar. Beat in eggs one at a time.

Add flour mixture alternately with milk. Coat raisins with flour and stir into the batter. Turn into a well-greased and lightly floured 8-inch tube cake pan. Bake 50 minutes or until done in moderate oven (350 degrees F.).

Cool 10 minutes. Remove from pan and place on wire rack to finish cooling.

ICC Refuses Plea
By NY Central

WASHINGTON, May 20 —UP—The Interstate Commerce Commission Wednesday gave financier Robert R. Young a free hand to continue his fight for control of the New York Central Railroad.

It denied a request from the present Central management for a declaratory order that Young and his associates could not take over the vast rail system without ICC sanction.

Young and the Central managers are waging a proxy battle for control of the railroad. The showdown will come next Wednesday when stockholders vote on rival slates of directors in Albany, N.Y.

Failure To Keep TVA Chairman On Brings Protest

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—President Eisenhower evidently has decided not to reappoint Gordon R. Clapp as TVA chairman—a decision which drew protests Wednesday night from Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and Americans for Democratic Action.

The White House disclosed late today that the President wrote a letter to Clapp yesterday thanking him for his "long and outstanding" association with the Tennessee Valley Authority and expressing "my very best wishes for the future."

This expression indicated plainly that the President did not intend to re-name Clapp, whose term as a member and board chairman expired yesterday.

Asked whether the note meant Clapp was through, presidential secretary James C. Hagerty would only say:

"The President has sent this letter to him."

At his news conference earlier in the day, the President praised Clapp but did not say whether he would be re-appointed or replaced.

The President was asked at the conference whether he had any "farewell comment" on Clapp's work.

He replied that judging from all the reports that have come to him, Clapp has operated as a very fine administrator and without any fear, favor or affection.

He was asked later when he would appoint a new chairman or reappoint Clapp.

Without saying which he might do, the President said he would act as soon as he finds a man who is completely non-political in his position and status, and whom he considers professionally well-qualified.

He is looking also, he said, for a man whose general philosophical approach to such affairs agrees with the President's and whose integrity and probity are above reproach.

After citing the list of qualifications, the President commented that finding such a man is a hard job.

Meantime two TVA supporters criticized Eisenhower for what they described variously as his failure and refusal to reappoint Clapp to the $15,000-a-year post he has held since 1946.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said the President's stand was "another clear blow at career government service," but added "it is still not too late for him to do the right thing — and renominate Gordon Clapp."

Robert R. Nathan, chairman of the executive committee of Americans for Democratic Action, which regularly supports "New Deal" and "Fair Deal" policies, said it "has dealt the whole nation a cruel blow."

Nathan said the "only objection to Mr. Clapp was that he ably carried out TVA policy as set down by Congress."

Hints 'Joe Must Go' Movement Will Fail, Report

SAUK CITY, Wis., May 20 — UP — Editor Leroy Gore, leader of the "Joe must go" movement, hinted Thursday that the drive to recall Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) will fail.

Gore asked "will Joe go?" in an editorial published in his weekly Sauk-Prairie Star and apparently answered his own question with an explanation of the great difficulties the recall movement now faces.

He angrily criticized the "paralysis" he said has gripped the Democratic party and organized labor in Wisconsin, and especially in Milwaukee, and accused them of failing to work wholeheartedly for McCarthy's recall.

Gore was in Chicago collecting money Thursday, but was to leave for Wisconsin about noon. Interviewed in Chicago about his editorial he said:

"I hate to say it is a tacit admission of failure, but it is evident now we will have to work awfully hard to succeed. It's a matter of arithmetic."

Gore said he has about 300,000 signatures on petitions asking that McCarthy be forced to stand for recall re-election. He must gather a total of at least 404,000 by June 5.

He said the "Joe Must Go" clubs scattered throughout Wisconsin would have to collect 8,000 signatures a day, compared with the current rate of about 3,500 a day, to meet the deadline.

Quick Change Of Mind By Attorney

OMAHA AP—When Esther Brooks of Omaha appeared before Judge Robert Troyer on a drunk driving charge, she pleaded innocent.

Judge Troyer held trial and found her guilty.

He paused and commented, "In fairness to persons who plead guilty and indicate they are sorry, this case should not merit the minimum penalty."

Defense Atty. Philip Aboud came to his feet fast with a motion to withdraw the innocent plea and substitute a guilty plea. Judge Troyer accepted the motion and put the penalty at $100 fine and suspension of driver's license for six months—the minimum penalty.

Possible Fraud In Contract For Blood Canteens

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—A House subcommittee said today it is asking the Justice Department to investigate "possible fraud" in a million-dollar contract for blood-shipping containers awarded two years ago to the Bailey Engineering Co., Ramsey, N. J.

Most of the containers were designed for a civil defense blood stockpile against atomic attack.

The subcommittee also demanded disciplinary action against military officials whom it accused of showing "very bad judgment or incompetence" in awarding the contract and "serious negligence" in inspecting the finished containers.

The recommendations were contained in a report summarizing 10 months' investigation by the House Government Operations Military subcommittee, headed by Rep. Riehlman (R-NY).

The subcommittee said it is turning over all of its records to justice officials with the request for a full investigation of alleged changes in specifications, which it said would have saved the Bailey firm $100,000 on the contract, and other "serious derelictions."

The report said that "a competitor contractor testified that Mr. (Louis H.) Bailey had boasted that the Bailey Co. was able to get away with so many deviations because 'he had so many friends' . . . and that he took shortcuts in putting the container together because no one could find out about it after the box was completed."

Navy officials referred a preliminary investigation of the case to the Justice Department last year, but there has been no announcement of action taken. Subcommittee officials said they now have fuller information.

Involved is a contract for 33,750 containers for storing whole blood, awarded in June, 1952 to the Bailey Co., by the Armed Services Medical Procurement Agency.

The company turned out about 20,000 of the containers, at $31.60 each, before going into bankruptcy last year, the report said. The rest of the contract was cancelled.

El Dorado Garners 7 Hits, Defeat Sports 3 To 1

Bobbles, Base On Balls, Wild Pitch Hurt Twin Cities

EL DORADO, Ark., May 20 (AP)—El Dorado got only seven hits off Monroe's Bill Halley but the Oilers put together a walk, single and wild pitch for two runs in the fifth to defeat the Sports, 3-1, in a Cotton States League game here Wednesday night.

Monroe's only run came in the top of the fifth when centerfielder Chuck Forbes singled, went to second on a base on balls to third baseman Paul Flores and came home on Sam Chetta's single.

The Oilers quickly got that one run back and another to spare in the bottom half of the frame. Elmer Popp walked, went to second on an error and scored when centerfielder Maurice Rodgers hit a one-baser. Rightfielder Gene Bilo, who was safe on the error, scored when Halley wild-pitched.

Oak Ridge Wins Over Collinston, 6-5; 12 Innings

OAK RIDGE, La., May 19 (Special)—Oak Ridge High, which barely missed the state baseball tournament due to a mixup, needed three overtime innings to break a 5-5 tie and nose out Collinston, 6-5, this week. A two-base hit by Barr scored Nolan with the winning run, after home runs by Farrar and Harper had kept Collinston in the thick of the fight.

Nolan, working on the mound for Oak Ridge, fanned 17, walked two, and was tagged for 10 hits. Farrar, pitching for Collinston, struck out 15, walked 10, and allowed nine hits.

Members of the competing teams were:

Oak Ridge—Winnon, second base; Barr, center field; Herron, third base; B. Day, catcher; Pipes, right field; E. Barham, first base; T. Barham, left field; Baugh, shortstop; and Nolan, pitcher.

Oak Ridge won three of four games in the recent district tournament at Ruston and was looking ahead to the state tournament at Baton Rouge last week, but a misunderstanding that developed in a telephone call resulted in Oak Ridge failing to make the drawing for the title event although qualified.

Private Eye Tails Second Baseman, Lands In Jail

PHILADELPHIA, May 19 (AP)—Robert R. M. Carpenter, president of the Philadelphia Phillies, admitted Wednesday he had employed a private detective to trail second baseman Granny Hamner.

Carpenter's disclosure followed Hamner's report to police Tuesday night he was being trailed and the subsequent arrest of a private investigator.

The ball player suspected he was being trailed after the Phillies-Milwaukee Braves game Tuesday night. He called police who arrested the driver of an automobile noted circling the block on which Hamner lives. Police found a .32 caliber revolver and a .38 caliber target pistol in the car.

The driver identified himself as Charles Leland, 36, a private investigator and told magistrate William Hagen he had followed Hamner's car by accident. He was held in $500 bail for violation of the fire-arms act.

Leland turned out to be an investigator for the Brandywine Investigative Agency in Wilmington, Del., hired by Carpenter to check on the post-game habits of some of his players.

Carpenter said in a statement Wednesday. "This was no case of mistaken identity. It was a case of my employing a detective agency to check on some of my players."

"Most major league clubs follow the same policy. Each year I have checked on my players both at home and on the road, so that I could be assured that our rules of midnight curfew after day games, and 2 a.m. curfew after night games would be observed."

Carpenter added that he has "no suspicions of the behavior of my players nor do I doubt their sincerity. I merely want a baseball team that will be physically and mentally prepared to play ... in a pennant race."

Hamner said he parked his two-tone gray Cadillac with a Florida license plate in front of his northeast Philadelphia home Tuesday night and noticed another car circling the block.

The baseball player called police who stopped the car as it circled the Hamner block again. The police arrested the driver when they found firearms in the car.

Detectives said Leland told them he had followed Hamner's car, mistaking it for another that he was assigned to trail. The detectives, Sgt. Michael Rapposelli and James Tevins, said Leland told them this story:

His assignment as an investigator for a private detective was to trail an air force man driving a two-tone gray Cadillac with a Florida license plate. The investigation was in connection with a divorce action. He trailed the car from International Airport to a parking lot adjacent to the ball park.

Learning that the driver was going to the ball game he went away and returned after the game. Hamner's car was parked on the same lot. When Hamner drove off, Leland thought he was the man assigned to him.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK (AP)—If one gets around and keeps his ears open he can learn something new about athletes almost every day. The latest authentic information gathered in this manner appears to prove that certain professional football players think more of performing before the television cameras than they do of making money.

It has been known for some time, of course, that the average sports figure does not object to lending his talents to the home screen. Even umpires have been accused of turning their better profile during diamond debates. But it has not to our knowledge been previously disclosed that the more badly bitten of our sweaty heroes are willing to pay their way in.

We might never have known it but for the fact that, through a deft move, NBC has arranged to telecast games of the Canadian Football League on nine Saturdays during the coming season in a sort of battle to the death with our own colleges' "Game of the Week." An official of the TV firm observed that, as a result of the pact, the Canadian clubs would suit up more of this country's All Americans than ever before, and he was asked why.

"They'll all want to go up there now," he explained with a patient smile. "The biggest trouble the Canadians have had getting the superstars to play with them in the past was the fact that their home folks wouldn't get to see them play, as they would if they signed with a National League team."

"Maybe the Canadians would offer a player $9,000 against the $7,000 he could get here. The player would say, 'Yeah, but if I go up there I might as well be at the North Pole—nobody'll know where I am and my name will be forgotten by the time I'm through.' So he'd take the $7,000 and appear on television. There won't be any more of that."

Yanks Put On Steam For Big Push To Top AL Spot

Indians Turn To Take On West Powers

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The world champion New York Yankees came home today from a triumphant Western tour during which they beat the strongest teams in the American League on their home grounds 8 out of 10 times.

With a dozen games immediately ahead against the Eastern tail-enders, this looks like the big Yankee push to the top.

The champs are one game behind Cleveland at the moment, but now it's the Indians' turn to take on the Western powers. New York is the only team in what the American League calls East—Baltimore is West—above sixth place.

On the invasion just ended New York was the only traveling team with anything like a winning record. Washington won 3 of 9; Boston, 2 of 10; and Philadelphia, 1 of 8.

The Western teams showed the power in the National League too, but here they were the invaders instead of the home teams. Three of the four broke even or better in the East.

The St. Louis Cardinals jumped from fourth to first with a 6-3 record. They have a single Eastern game left tonight as they stop off in Pittsburgh for a makeup contest with the Pirates.

Milwaukee also won 6 of 9 and moved from seventh to fourth. The Chicago Cubs broke even at 5-5. Only Cincinnati faltered, losing 6 of 9.

With the teams traveling, just one other game in addition to the Cards-Pirates encounter is on tonight's schedule. The New York Giants open a five-game set at Philadelphia.

St. Louis grabbed the National League lead yesterday on the combination of a 3-0 victory over the Giants and defeats for Brooklyn and the Phillies. The Cubs swamped the Dodgers 9-3 with all nine runs coming in the eighth inning. Milwaukee defeated Philadelphia 6-2. Pittsburgh shaded Cincinnati 3-2.

The Yankees made it two straight over the White Sox 3-2. Cleveland won its seventh in a row, 5-3 over Boston. Baltimore beat Washington 5-3 and Detroit edged the Athletics 4-3.

Vic Raschi, branded as too complacent to stick with the Yankees this season, pitched his first National League shutout and his fifth consecutive victory for the Cardinals. He retired the last 15 Giants in order after giving up five singles in the first five innings.

The Dodgers continued their inept hitting and added poor fielding and shaky pitching in losing to the Cubs. Chicago scored its nine runs with only three hits. Brooklyn chipped in with three errors and the Cubs were given four bases on balls. The big blow was a three-run homer by Dee Fondy. Carl Erskine, leading 2-0 until Fondy's smash, was the loser.

Pitcher Warren Spahn led an 11-hit Milwaukee attack on three Philadelphia hurlers with two doubles and a single in winning his fourth game. Eddie Mathews helped out with his seventh home run, this one with one aboard.

A single by center fielder Dick Hall with the bases loaded in the fifth drove in the two runs the Pirates needed to beat Cincinnati.

Chico Carrasquel, the White Sox shortstop, got the shakes against the Yankees in the last two innings and the Yanks came from behind to win. In the eighth, with a man on first, Chico let Hank Bauer's double-play grounder roll through his legs and Bauer later scored the tying run on Yogi Berra's single.

In the ninth with one out and runners on first and third, Enos Slaughter hit to Carrasquel, who had the choice of throwing to the plate or starting a double play. But he fumbled the ball and by the time he recovered his only play was a force at second while the winning run came home from third.

Bob Lemon picked up victory No. 6 for Cleveland as he allowed the Red Sox just four hits. Two errors by Milt Bolling gave the Indians two unearned runs in the eighth.

Detroit overcame the Athletics in the ninth when Al Kaline singled after the Tigers had loaded the bases without a hit.

The Orioles, whose hits this spring have been few and far between, bunched six singles after two were out in the sixth to score four runs against Washington.

ROME (AP)—Italy's blind "misery marchers," assured officially that something will be done to boost their $6-a-month pensions, called off their plans last night for a sitdown hunger strike on Parlia-

The bedraggled column of some 600 sightless men and women marched into Rome yesterday carrying signs: "We, Too, Have a Right to Live." Sixty began the march from Florence May 8, and their ranks were swelled by blind demonstrators from cities all over

Paolo Bentivoglio, president of the National Assn. for the Blind, said some 3,000 "extremely poor" blind now only get 4,000 lire (about $6). He said efforts to have this
